RACE DISCRIMINATION TO BE BANNED . . .

Building Unions Agree To Take More Negroes

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP) — An agreement to admit more Negroes to building trades union and to prohibit racial discrimination was reached Tuesday by 18 AFL-CIO unions and Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz.

The unions, who have long been the target of racial discrimination charges, pledged to recruit young Negroes actively for union apprenticeship job training programs and to work with "responsible" civil rights groups to carry out the program.

Wirtz praised the agreement and said he will continue to carry out Labor Department antidiscrimination rules "without change or amendment."

Had Been Opposed

The unions, which took final action on the agreement here Tuesday, previously had bitterly opposed proposals by some Labor Department officials to stiffen the regulations.

Wirtz also said that any conflict between government actions on antidiscrimination regulations of the Labor Department and actions of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance, will be settled by Undersecretary of Labor James J. Reynolds.

C. J. Haggerty, president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, said the agreement is aimed at "preventing any possible discrimination in the operation of local unions."

3.5 Million Members

The 18 construction unions have 8,500 locals throughout the nation with a total of some 3.5 million members.

The unions pledged to help Negroes and members of other minority groups to improve their educational qualifications so they can qualify for apprenticeship programs.

The unions also promised to disseminate full information among Negro organizations about apprenticeship openings and how to apply for them.

And they pledged "to urge upon all affiliate local unions the social and economic necessity of striving for satisfactory minority participation."

Help Pledged

The AFL-CIO leaders earlier Tuesday pledged to help federal officials work out such problems as training slum-dwellers for jobs and solving union jurisdictional disputes growing out of President Johnson's program to start rebuilding the cities.

They voted "full support" for a White House committee set up to establish procedures for the federal model cities program, Haggerty said.

While the two actions were not directly related, the agreement on the model cities program and the Labor Department agreement were aimed in part at opening more union construction jobs to Negroes and other minority groups.

The unions hope federal plans to rebuild large sections of the nation's cities will create new construction jobs if the government follows through by providing the money.

The federal law that set up the model cities program requires maximum hiring of slum residents, which in many cities would mean mostly Negroes.

Haggerty said union officials will work with a presidential committee headed by industrialist Edgar Kaiser.

Fund Shift Considered To Ease Welfare Deficit

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County is considering the possibility of transferring money from the county inheritance tax fund to take care of the deficit in the medical budget of the County Welfare Dept.

Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert, in reporting at the monthly welfare board meeting Tuesday, explained that the county for the first seven months of the 1967-68 fiscal year is running some $60,000 short in its medical budget.

He said the annual fiscal year budget for this year for medical expenses for indigent persons was $225,000; and because of rising costs, there remains a balance of only $56,444.33.

Somewhat Better

Trabert said the other portions of the county welfare budget were running somewhat better than anticipated with expenditures for the first seven months totaling $132,634.75, leaving a balance of $164,865.25 for the remaining five months.

He said he knew of no alternative than to use the inheritance tax, which according to the law, may be used for the indigents. The last such use of inheritance tax funds was for the construction of the County Convalescent Hospital at 22nd and St. Mary's.

The board defered action until Trabert prepares figures showing how much inheritance tax funds would be needed for the remainder of the year.

Nursing Home?

The board also voted to contact the Lincoln Hospital Council to see what steps need be taken for the county to take over one wing of the former Lincoln General Hospital for a county-operated nursing home.

County Board Chairman William Grossman said that this might be a means of saving a considerable amount in medical costs.

Trabert had made the suggestion to the board as a possible partial solution to the problem which may arise when the new regulations concerning nursing homes become effective.

Lower Cost

Trabert said such a county-run home could be operated for less money than the cost to the taxpayer for nursing home care in privately owned homes for public welfare recipients.

Presently, under Title 18, which is Medicare, there is no limit on the rate paid to nursing homes for up to a three-month period.

However, at the end of this three months, the individual must pay the fees or if the individual is indigent, the county picks up the tab under Title 19, which limits the monthly fee to a maximum $280.

Under the existing regulations, officials note that this $280 fee has created some problems because some of the small homes which can qualify only as care homes, are not worthy of the maximum fees which many are charging.

Animal Fatalities Top 1,500 Mark During '67

There were over 1,500 animal fatalities on Lincoln streets last year.

This figure, according to Lincoln Humane Society superintendent Bernard Patton, could be greatly reduced if Lincolnites would keep their pets confined.

In a report presented at the annual meeting of the Humane Society Tuesday, Patton said that almost all of the 1,546 dead animals picked up last year were found on city streets. The total included 598 dogs and showed an increase of about 200 from 1966.

The shelter handled 11,880 animals in 1967, compared with 10,701 in 1966. Among other categories, the 1967 figure included 1,427 animals placed in homes, over 600 boarders, and 2,914 stray animals.

Patton said the new shelter had allowed him to expand his activities. But he added that until the new building is paid for he could not afford to purchase additional trucks. The Humane Society presently operates with two to three trucks. The board of directors is discussing means of raising money to pay off the shelter's short term loan.

10,500 Men 'Insurance' Against 2nd Offensive

. . . PENTAGON MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

Washington (AP) — The United States is sending 10,500 more soldiers and Marines to South Vietnam as insurance against a "second round" Communist city offensive and assault on Khe Sanh.

The action raised the possibility that the United States may increased its planned troop ceiling in Vietnam beyond 525,000 and that National Guard and Reserve ground forces may be called to active duty.

The Pentagon's announcement came about 24 hours after President Nguyen Van Thieu had said more U.S. troops would be needed to bring the war to a quick end.

The Pentagon said no decision has been made on either an over-all buildup in Vietnam or a reserve call-up, but it was apparent such steps are under study.

Asst. Defense Secretary Phil G. Goulding told newsmen the shipment of the additional troops is in response to a request received from Gen. William Westmoreland in "the last few days," and that they are being shipped for "insurance purposes."

He characterized the deployment as a speed-up, but said these troops fall within the 525,000 ceiling. There are now about 500,000 American servicemen in Vietnam.

Goulding said "evaluation will have to be made later" on whether to boost the 525,000 objective. He said Westmoreland has not asked for an increase over that number.

South to North

For more than six months, Army forces have been drawn from the lower part of South Vietnam into the I Corps area in the north to bolster Marine defenses against a series of Communist offensive threats along the demilitarized zone.

Goulding acknowledged that some of the soldiers being sent to Vietnam will be men who have had previous tours of duty there.

The new development leaves another gap in the strategic reserve forces in the United States, already depleted by demands of the Vietnam war.

The Army Guard has a 150,000-man force whose mission is to be ready for quick call-up and possible deployment. This force — or part of it—would be in line for mobilization, if it is found necessary to bolster the strategic reserve. This strategic reserve in the United States is intended to respond to threats and crises anywhere in the world.

Allied Forces Brace For New Offensive

Saigon (AP) —Allied forces fought Communist holdouts at Saigon and Hue Wednesday and braced for a new Red offensive along the northern border.

The allies tightened a ring of armor and infantrymen around North Vietnamese regulars at Hue, but the enemy, firing from trenches and battlements along the southern edge of the walled citadel, repelled two Marine assaults.

The Leathernecks lost six killed and 72 wounded in the two attacks on the citadel and in a brief engagement across the Perfume River in the southern section of the city.

B52s Aid Khe Sanh

At the Khe Sanh Marine base below the demilitarized zone, B52 bombers twice raided enemy artillery and troop positions Wednesday. American commanders hope by means of saturation bombing around Khe Sanh to soften what they believe will be an offensive by about 20,000 North Vietnamese massed in the area.

U.S. warplanes also hammered supply targets in North Vietnam, including the Vinh airfield, 170 miles south of Hanoi, and the major supply highway through the Mu Gia pass.

Allied batteries heavily shelled suspected communist troop concentrations and routes of enemy movement around Saigon early Wednesday in what artillerymen call "H and I," harassment and interdiction fire. Explosions rattled windows.

The predawn barrages followed up the closest strike of the war to Saigon by U.S. B52 Stratofortresses. The eight-engine jets, each of which can carry 30 tons of explosives, staged a saturation raid on a suspected enemy gathering only seven miles north-northwest of the capital.

Rangers Cut Band

Around Saigon, Vietnamese rangers caught up with a guerrilla band near Binh Chanh village, four miles southwest of the capital, and killed 58 of the enemy. Twelve rangers were killed and 18 wounded.

Farther south in the Mekong Delta, guerrillas hit the coastal town of Rach Gia with 20 mortar rounds, then swept in and burned down 283 civilian houses.

A government spokesman said the shelling killed two civilains and injured 10, and destroyed 46 more houses.

More than 1,000 of the anonymous dead from 12 days of street fighting in Saigon were buried in three mass graves in a cemetery on the western edge of the city. A few street waifs were the only spectators as 600 bodies were laid to rest in one grave, 200 in another and 250 in a third.

Cemetery officials said most of the dead were Viet Cong guerrillas.

With mopping up in the Saigon area still incomplete, the government reimposed censorship on local newspapers as they resumed publishing. Foreign correspondents are not affected.

Underpayment In State Totals $524,000 In '67

Underpayment of $524,380 to 2,093 employes in Nebraska was discovered in 1967 by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Floyd L. Wilson, who heads the Department's Wage-Hour office in Omaha, said the total includes $361,952 in unpaid overtime, $159,280 due employes paid less than the minimum wage, and $3,148 due to employes paid less than the wages of members of the opposite sex for equal work.

The regular minimum wage, for jobs traditionally covered by the statute, now is $1.60 an hour, Wilson said, with time-and-a-half due after 40 hours per week.

Those workers brought under the coverage of the act for the first time in 1967, now must be paid $1.15 an hour, with overtime pay for hours worked in excess of 42 per workweek.

Wilson reported that investigators in the area discovered 66 minors illegally employed under the statute's child labor provisions. Those seek to protect the health and educational opportunities of young people by requiring that they be employed only outside school hours, if under 16, and in safe jobs if under 18.

Over the ten-state region administered from the Department's Kansas City offices, he said $4,720,038 was found due to 23,395 workers. There were 1,089 illegally employed minors.

Most of the back pay restored to employes results from voluntary agreement by the employer, the Labor Department official said.

However, the Statute provides for several legal steps to recover illegally withheld pay. If the employe goes to court himself, he may be awarded double the actual underpayment, plus attorney's fees. In some cases, the secretary of labor may act in his behalf, but only for the actual loss.

In the ten-state region, 1967 saw 78 cases filed by the solicitor of labor, of which only six sought money alone. The others asked for court orders barring future violations, including the withholding of back pay already earned. During the year 75 cases of both types were concluded, and $216,278.94 recovered through the activities of the labor solicitor's office.

Over 25,000 Income Tax Estimates Expected

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

State Tax Commissioner Murrell McNeil predicted Tuesday that 25,000 to 30,000 Nebraskans will file 1968 income tax estimates by the April 15 deadline.

Both residents and nonresidents whose Nebraska income tax liability "can reasonably be expected to exceed his withholding by $40 or more" must file an estimated return, he said.

Selfemployed individuals, and those with other income not subject to withholding, must file if the estimated tax liability exceeds $40.

McNeil noted the deadlines for state tax income tax estimates and payments coincide with the federal deadlines.

Nebraska's income tax rate is 10% of the federal tax liability for individuals, and thus the federal estimate can be used in preparing the state estimate.

Individuals filing estimates must submit the return and first quarterly payment by April 15.

After the estimate is filed, individual taxpayers will then be billed 15 to 30 days ahead of the due date for subsequent quarterly payments on their estimates. These dates are June 15, Sept. 15 and Jan. 15.

Estimating taxpayers will then make a final return on their 1968 income, and final payment, if any, by April 15, 1969.

McNeil said farmers (individuals who earn two-thirds of their income from farming operations) have three options for making income tax returns.

Ninety-five per cent of the state's ranchers and farmers will elect to file a final 1968 income tax report and payment under the Feb. 15, 1969. option, he said.

However, they also have the options of filing an April 15, 1968, estimate and making quarterly payments, or filing an estimate by Jan. 15, 1969, with a final return and payment by April 15, 1969.

State tax estimate forms are available at county treasurer offices, all banks, tax practioners and the state tax commissioner's office.

McNeil said more than 75% of the estimated 430,000 to 500,000 Nebraska taxpayers are subject to wage withholding.

Nebraska's 1968 income tax revenue is estimated at $36 million for corporations. Approximately $6 million individual income tax is expected to be paid into the state treasury by quarters with the balance in final returns.

Grantham Pleased With Talks

. . . JOB CORPS FACILITIES USE EYED

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Northern Systems Company Vice President J. O. Grantham will meet in Washington Wednesday with officials of the Department of Labor and the Department of Commerce to discuss possible future use of the facilities at the Lincoln Job Corps Center.

Grantham said he is "most pleased" by the reaction he has thus far received from preliminary contacts with the Labor department and with Vice President Hubert Humphrey's office.

"Something positive may come out" of the scheduled Wednesday conference, Grantham said by telephone from Washington.

Federal officials are "very impressed with the resources available" at the Job Corps Center in Lincoln, Grantham said, but future use of the Lincoln facilities remains "uncertain."

The Job Corps Center is scheduled to close next month.

Grantham is meeting with federal officials to determine whether Northern Systems, a subsidiary of Northern Natural Gas Company, might participate in other federal programs, including job-training activities.

His contacts Tuesday were largely designed to "supply information" on the Lincoln facilities, Grantham said.

No personal conference with Humphrey has been scheduled, but the vice president has assigned an aide to serve as a contact man on the matter, Grantham said.

Greek Workers To Benefit

Athens — Greece's ruling junta has announced a series of measures to benefit Greek workers. Henceforth, the government will provide dowries for working girls who want to get married, will make special low-priced theater tickets good for use any day of the week — instead of only on Wednesdays — and will furnish sightseeing trips to points of interest in Greece and abroad. The announcement did not say how the financially hard-pressed government would pay for the measures.

. . . REPORTS FOLLOW TALKS

Seoul—South Korea has demanded that the United States threaten to repudiate the peacekeeping machinery set up in the Korean War armistice agreement if North Korea persists in hostile thrusts against the South, according to reports circulating here.

The reports followed the second day of intensive high level discussions between Cyrus R. Vance, President Johnson's special envoy, and officials of the Seoul government.

Premier Chung Il-kwon and other leaders were said to have urged the U.S. to abandon what they consider a "lukewarm" response to the tense atmosphere caused by the North Korean infiltration campaign culminating in an attempt on the life of President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21, two days before the North Koreans seized the U.S. Navy intelligence ship Pueblo.

South Koreans are reported to have asked that the U.S. convey a "strongly worded warning" to North Korea either in a joint communique on the Vance mission or in a separate statement by Johnson on the Korean crisis.

A personal letter to Park from Johnson which Vance delivered Monday has failed to mollify the peppery former army general. Vance, who arrived Sunday, is scheduled to see Park again Wednesday.

Meanwhile the South Korean defense ministry announced that tours of duty for members of the armed forces here, numbering about 600,000, have been extended six months beyond the normal service of two years in the army and marines and two and a half years in the air force and navy.

Court Asked To Force Hospital Desegregation

Orangeburg, S.C. (AP) — The Justice Department asked court desegregation of the Orangeburg Hospital Tuesday in its second legal move in this racially tense city where three youths have died in violence.

Negro student leaders from across the state predicted the tension might trigger new violence if students return prematurely to South Carolina State College, shut down after the three were killed by state police in gunfire on the campus last week.

One student leader warned, "Things might explode."

In Washington, the Justice Department said it had filed suit asking for a federal court injunction to end alleged discrimination in patient facilities and medical care at the Orangeburg Hospital.

A court hearing already is set Thursday on the Justice Department's suit seeking to force the city's only bowling alley to comply with civil rights laws. The Orangeburg violence followed an effort by Negro students to integrate the All-Star Triangle Bowling Lanes last week.

The second suit alleged the Orangeburg Hospital practices racial discrimination in the assignment of rooms, floors, wards and wings and in its medical care, treatment, services and training programs.

OAS Finally Picks Secretary General

Washington (AP) — The Organization of American States, after three fruitless months of trying to elect a new secretary general, finally chose Galo Plaza Lasso, 61, former president of Ecuador, Tuesday.

One of Latin America's outstanding leaders, Plaza was elected on the sixth ballot taken over the months of trying to get the required majority.

Plaza was the first president of Ecuador in three decades to serve out his term of office (1948-52) in a country noted for its turbulent politics and frequent revolutions.

He pledged himself in advance of his election to a thorough housecleaning at the OAS.

"If they do not want someone who will make an abrupt change of policies, they should not elect me, and if they elect me, I shall assume they want such a change," he said last September in announcing his candidacy.

He will succeed Dr. Jose Antonio Mora of Uruguay, whose term expires next May, in the $32,000-a-year, tax-free post.

In Tuesday's balloting, Plaza received 16 votes to 5 for Marcos Falcon Briceno of Venezuela. There was one blank vote.

Eduardo Ritter Aislan of Panama, who led in the first four ballots, announced Monday withdrawal of his candidacy, saying he did so in the interest of inter-American unit. Later that day, on the fifth ballot, Plaza got 10 votes, two short of the 12 needed for election, and Falcon Briceno six, and there were six blank votes.

The voting Tuesday broke a deadlock which began Nov. 17.

Plaza gained international fame as a United Nations mediator in peace restoration missions in Lebanon in 1958, the Congo in 1960 and in Cyprus 1964-66.

Antiwar Propaganda Mailed To War Widow Investigated

By JEAN HELLER

Washington (AP) — The federal government began an investigation Tuesday of incidents in which bitter antiwar propaganda was sent anonymously through the mail to a woman whose husband was killed in Vietnam.

Some of the material said American servicemen fighting in Vietnam are worse than cannibals. The young widow received it twice within a month after her husband died.

Pentagon sources said the Army's Criminal Investigation Division would take charge of the case and would call in the FBI to investigate the source of the mailings.

Counsel To Study It

Timothy J. May, general counsel to the Post Office Department, said his office would examine the material to determine if there are grounds for prosecution.

The inquiry was opened after the Associated Press revealed the incidents.

"When women are contacted in this manner we're encouraging them to let us know about it," a Pentagon spokesman said.

"This junk is all objectionable from a moral and ethical sense, but legally there is often little we can do except appeal to the sender to stop it.

"But where we find material that is actionable, we'll take action."

Only obscene or seditious material is actionable, he added.

By First Class Mail

The antiwar diatribe in question was sent by first class mail to Carol Schwellenbach, 26, of Fayetteville, N.C., She received it first at her in-laws' home in Chico, Calif., shortly after her husband, Pfc. Gary Schwellenbach, was killed, and again three weeks later at her own home near Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Both times the material came in hand-addressed envelopes postmarked Susanville, Calif., and bearing the return address: P.O. Box 497, Susanville.

That Post Office box is held in the name of H. L. Hummel. The same name appears at the end of an essay included in the antiwar material sent to Mrs. Schwellenbach.

Antiwar Essay

Also included was a reprint of an antiwar essay which appeared last summer in The Christian Century, a nondenominational religious weekly published in Chicago.

On Dec. 19, 1967, The Christian Century filled an order for 100 reprints of the article. A spokesman for the magazine said the order for reprints was signed, "H. L. Hummel, Box 497, Susanville, Calif."

A telephone call to an H. L. Hummel in Susanville was answered by a woman. She said her husband is 87 and could not hear well enough to carry on a direct conversation. She relayed questions to him. He answered into the telephone himself.

The man, a sheet and blanket salesman, said he held Box 497 and said he had ordered the 100 reprints of the Christian Century article "because I wanted to read them."

Asked if he had ever mailed the reprints or other material to women whose sons or husbands were killed in Vietnam, the man said:

"I wouldn't say for sure if I didn't or did. I don't remember sending any of this to women who have lost a son or a husband. What if I did? I don't see anything wrong with it. There's no law against it, is there?"

There isn't.

The House Post Office Committee has investigated the possibility of writing a bill to prohibit such harassment but has concluded than any law that could be construed as censorship of first class mail would not survive a Supreme Court test.

The Post Office Department concurs.

The Pentagon has a program for tracking down the sources of such harassment. In 34 months, it has pinpointed 205 sources. There has been only one successful prosecution, and that involved a paroled convict who sponged off the family of a dead Marine by posing as a buddy from Vietnam.

Viets Identify Body As Hanoi General's

Saigon, Vietnam (AP) — National police said Tuesday Maj. Gen. Tran Do, one of Hanoi's highest ranking officers in South Vietnam, is dead of wounds suffered in the Saigon phase of the Communist offensive.

They reported he was fatally wounded in a fight Saturday at the An Quang pagoda and U.S. soldiers found the body Monday about three miles west of town.

The identification was based on photographs a group of Vietnamese officers obtained in an inspection of the body. The inspection was cut short by sniper fire. When the officers returned, the body was gone.

Other authorities were not so sure the dead man was in fact Tran Do.

American officials said the general has been deputy commander of the political office of the Communist Central Committee for South Vietnam and was identified in recently captured Viet Cong documents as deputy commander of the "Liberation Army of South Vietnam."

The "Liberation Army of South Vietnam" is what North Vietnamese troops say they are members of when they are caught.

Pacification Teams Leave Countryside

© New York Times Service

By CHARLES MOHR

Saigon — A large part of South Vietnam's rural pacification teams have been withdrawn into the nation's devastated towns, along with the government troops assigned to protect them, it was learned Tuesday.

In effect, South Vietnam has temporarily abandoned its own countryside. If not dead, the vital pacification program is in a state of suspension.

Steps are being taken, well informed sources said, to attempt to correct this extremely serious result of the recent Viet Cong lunar new year offensive against cities.

Ironically, the Viet Cong achieved this setback to the important pacification program by directing its offensive not at the "priority pacification areas" in the country but at South Vietnam's major cities and towns.

"Most" of the 54 South Vietnamese army battalions assigned to "screen" rural pacification teams had also been withdrawn from their rural outposts in order to protect cities and towns from renewed Viet Cong assaults, the sources said.

Keyserling Quits ADA

Washington (UPI) — Leon H. Keyserling, former chairman of the presidential Council of Economic Advisers, resigned from Americans for Democratic Action Tuesday, charging that it had been captured by a clique dedicated to destroying President Johnson.

Keyserling, a consulting economist and Washington attorney, joined several labor leaders and Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., in quitting the liberal organization following its announced support of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

An ADA member for 20 years and a vice chairman since 1953, Keyserling quit with a stinging denunciation of chairman John Kenneth Galbraith, whom he charged was the leader of a clique which "has virtually converted ADA activity into a one-purpose anti-Johnson movement."

Windmill Is Returning To Cordova's Scenery

By GARY CLAXTON
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Cordova—This spring, Cordova's windmill will be running again.

Reconstructed in the intersection that as much as anything indicates the center of town, sentimental townsfolk will again cast their eyes on the longtime city landmark.

It will be the fourth operational windmill for this town of about 150 persons located in the extreme southwest corner of Seward County.

The previous wooden windmill, erected in 1913 when a delivery wagon knocked over its metal predecessor, stood until last spring when it surrendered to a wind storm.

"Most people around here remember the wooden one," said storeowner Levi Hansen, who shepherded the fund drive that made the restoration possible. "We wanted it to look just like the other one."

Fund Of $281

Past and present residents donated $281 to the fund, he said, with contributions coming in from as far away as Athens, Greece, Anchorage, Alaska, and Boston, Mass.

Town Postmaster Verlin Peterson, also the town plumber, called the project a real community effort. Peterson became responsible for the erection of the mill and installation of the wind wheel.

"It's been too cold to work on the wheel this winter," Peterson said. "But we'll get it done this spring and some day we'll just get together and put the thing up. I suppose somebody will put together some kind of a little ceremony.

"When we started to raise the frame," he said, "I had one helper for sure and one other maybe. But we probably had 12 or 15 helping by the time we got through."

When operational, the windmill will pump water into a cistern maintained for fire protection, he said.

Plaque Mounted

The most recent Cordova news flash came when the Kensington, a local women's club how containing about 18 members sometimes ranging in age from 18 to 75, mounted an aluminum plaque on the mill frame citing the structure as a landmark.

Mrs. Rose Vlcek, Kensington president who declined to discuss the history of the windmill in detail because she was a town "newcomer of about 33 years," said, "Somebody said, 'Oh, we've got to have a windmill again.'

"At one time we didn't have any wells here," she explained. "Everybody had to go to the windmill to get water."

She said the club intended the plaque as a momento of the club.

"It started out as a sewing club but it's just a social club now," she said. "We meet the second Thursday of each month and just visit most of the time. We have a few members who live in the country but most of them live in town now.

"Whenever we get to be 65," she continued, "we become honorary members and get an engraved silver spoon. That means we don't have to serve lunch or have them come to our home.

"But," she said, "we can if we want."

Soloist's Exciting Voice Captivates Her Audience

By RUTH ARDIS

Maureen Forrester captivated her audience in four languages Tuesday night in providing one of the most exciting solo concerts heard here in many years. The Canadian-born contralto received a tremendous ovation following her recital at the Stuart Theater.

Miss Forrester is a singer endowed not only with an extraordinary voice but also with an impelling stage presence and projection as well.

Her program ranged from the dramatic fervor of Mahler to the light and charming lullabies of Benjamin Britten. In each she was revealed as an artist of great musicality.

Modern Interpreter

Since her debut in 1956, Miss Forrester has achieved a reputation as one of the greatest modern interpreters of Mahler's songs.

Her rich velvety voice, especially suitable for the poignancy of the German lieder, was exquisite in "Liebst du um Schonheit" by Mahler, the aria "Adieu-forets" from "Jeanne d'Arc' by Tschaikowsky and "Dido's Lament" from the seventeenth century opera "Dido and Aeneas" by Purcell.

French art songs by Duparc, Debussy, and Chausson demonstrated her limitless variety of expression and control in all registers. "Psyche," a modern French art song by Emile Paladilhe, was especially effective for its intensity and long phrase lines.

The audience was enthralled by Miss Forrester's interpretation of Britten's song-cycle "A Charm of Lullabies." A stunning contrast was provided by her concluding group —de Falla's "Seven Popular Spanish Folk Songs."

Much credit should go to John Newmark, the accompanist, for adding to the delights of the evening. The piano accompaniments were skillfully fused with the vocal line.

Three folk songs were offered as encores in response to the ovation accorded the soloist and her accompanist by the members of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra Association.

Bank Teller Shot, Killed By Gunman In Holdup Failure

Princeton, N.J. (AP) — A pretty 27-year-old bank teller was shot and killed by a gunman during an apparent holdup attempt Tuesday in the heart of the Princeton business district, police reported.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Kristie Pfister of Kingston, an employe of the Princeton Bank & Trust Co.

Police said the gunman fired one shot from a pistol or revolver, striking Mrs. Pfister. She was dead on arrival at Princeton Hospital.

The gunman fled on foot and without any money.

Father Duffy Is Dead At 94

. . . Ex-G.I. Bishop

Hot Springs Ark. (AP)—The Most Rev. James A. Duffy, 94, senior Roman Catholic bishop of the United States, died Monday. Bishop Duffy came to Hot Springs in 1933 after retiring as bishop of the diocese of Grand Island, Neb. He was chaplain of St. Joseph's Hospital (Hot Springs) until 1964.

A native of St. Paul, Minn., Bishop Duffy was ordained in 1899 and served parishes in Minnesota until 1902 when ill health forced him to resign.

To Nebraska In 1913

He went to Cheyenne, Wyo., where he remained until 1913, a year after the Diocese of Grand Island was separated from the Diocese of Omaha. He then returned to head the Diocese, then headquartered at Kearney, and in 1916 Howard, Greeley, Wheeler Counties and that part of Hall County north of the river were transferred to the Kearney Diocese. A year later Grand Island became the See City.

Bishop Duffy built the present cathedral in Grand Island between 1926 and 1928, but in 1931 ill health again forced his retirement and he went to Hot Springs.

Funeral services will be held in Grand Island but diocesan officials said arrangements are not complete.

Service Academy Nominees Of Sen. Hruska Announced

Washington — Senator Roman L. Hruska has announced nominations to the United States Military, Air Force, Naval and Merchant Marine Academies.

Applicants were selected on the basis of competitive Civil Service examinations held last year.

Those named by the senator must now pass college entrance examination board tests and meet service physical standards.

The nominees:

U.S. Air Force Academy—John Bernard Vering of Fremont, principal; Steven Edward Anderson of Wahoo, Anthony Paul Eller of Omaha, James W. Harlan of Beaver City, Robert W. Hollister of Stromsburg, and Bradley M. Thalken of North Platte, alternates. Curtis Dean Johnson of Curtis, principal; Dennis H. Bauer of Culbertson, Robert H. Blanchard of Lincoln, David Jesse Sohl of Norfolk, Randall J. Stych of Clay Center, and John P. With of Norfolk, alternates.

U.S. Naval Academy — Mark Jay Allison of Omaha, principal; Ronald Eugene Dake, 1731 No. 62nd Street, Lincoln, Terence Martin Keller of Fremont, Andrew Kay Liberman of Omaha, Robert E. Rech of Grand Island, Rodney W. Schwasinger of Ogallala, Lee Charles Stinson of Columbus, principal; Arthur Lee Campbell of Hemingford, Stephen J. Golka of Hemingford, James Allen Lukesh of Ord, Jeffrey L. Paulson of Fremont, and Daniel E. Schatz of Falls City, alternates. Glen E. Rountree of Scottsbluff, principal; Mark L. Ells, 1565 South 23rd St., Lincoln, Richard Lee Koons of York, Kenneth Robert Kunze of York, Andrew Henderson Plummer of Omaha, and Pat Sheehy of Hastings, alternates.

U.S. Merchant Marine Academy — (These nominees will compete for the three vacancies allotted to Nebraska) — Thomas Burton Andersen of Fremont, Douglas Harry Damerst of Grand Island, Merl Glen Grossnicklaus of Chambers, James William Harlan of Beaver City, Kenneth R. Kunze of York, Monty Lee Miller of Newcastle, Timothy Allan Scharf of Scottsbluff, Terry Lee Scott of Gering, Richard Lee Sheets of Tekamah, and Dean Glenn Winchell of North Platte.

Four-Day Legion Conference Set For Grand Island

Grand Island (UPI) — Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from the more than 300 American Legion posts in Nebraska will be in Grand Island Thursday through Sunday for their annual mid-winter conference, Gaylord Apfel, chairman of the conference planning committee, said.

Hosted by the American Legion Post No. 53 of Grand Island, this annual conference has scheduled sessions at the Holiday Inn, Hotel Yancey, Legion headquarters at the club, and at the Grand Theater.

"Rebirth of Patriotism" is the conference theme.

Apfel said the highlight of the four-day conference will be Sunday at 1 p.m. when "William (Bill) Galbraith of Beemer, national commander of the American Legion, will give a keynote address at the Grand Island Senior High auditorium.

Galbraith, a veteran of World War II, is expected to build his address around his theme of "Freedom is not Free," and to also comment on his recent visit to the Vietnam War zone.

LBJ Task Force To Check 703,000 Bridges Nationally

Washington (UPI) — Seeking to prevent another bridge collapse disaster, the government announced Tuesday it would safety check about 703,000 highway and railroad bridges across the nation.

The bridge survey will be conducted by President Johnson's task force on bridge safety, established after the Silver Bridge fell into the Ohio River Dec. 15 between Point Pleasant, W.Va., and Gallopolis, Ohio. Forty-two bodies have been recovered and four other persons are still missing.

Federal highway administrator Lowell K. Bridwell said that 511,000 bridges on state highways and 192,000 railroad bridges would be included in an initial survey. Bridges on rural and city roads may be included later, Bridwell said.

He explained that the government would give "first priority to those bridges built before 1935 . . . and those bridges which pass over deep ravines or water where a collapse might result in catastrophic loss of life and property."

Sec. Freeman, Cattle Advisory Group To Confer

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has summoned a National Cattle Industry Advisory Committee to meet with him here Feb. 19-20 on ways and means of boosting prices and income on beef cattle.

The 28-member committee is composed of representatives of all segments of the cattle and beef industry as well as marketing organizations, consumer goods and other industry persons.

The committee was appointed by Freeman to serve as a liaison between the industry and the government.

Semler Arrested For His Refusal To Be Inducted

Omaha (UPI) — Phillip Semler, 24, Kearney, Neb., Tuesday was arrested by FBI agents when he refused to step forward at the induction center here when called upon to do so.

The "step forward" is symbolic of a transition of inductees from civilian status to the military with its accompanying change in responsibilities.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas F. Dowd, Omaha, authorized a federal complaint against Semler for his refusal to be inducted into the armed forces of the United States.

The complaint was filed and a warrant issued by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Richard E. Robinson, Omaha.

Semler was afforded a hearing before Judge Robinson of the U.S. District Court in Omaha following the arrest.

Gardner To Head Urban Coalition

© New York Times Service

By JAMES RESTON

Washington — John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, has accepted an offer to become head of the Urban Coalition's private campaign to transform the cities of America.

The coalition is an organization of business, labor, religious, local government and civil rights leaders who propose to mobilize committees in every American city for a massive campaign on urban poverty.

It is understood that the executive committee of the coalition offered the job to Gardner last Friday. He will leave his present Cabinet post March 1.

The coalition's co-chairmen are Andrew Heiskell, chairman of the board of Time, Inc., and A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

The headquarters of the coalition will be expanded in Washington to help direct what promises to be a major drive by private organizations and city officials on urban problems.

Gardner is expected to devote most of his time to the coalition work, but will remain a consultant to the Carnegie Corp. The coalition will be financed by foundations and matching funds from business, labor and other private organizations.

The coalition will take on various jobs. It will try to create a sense of national urgency about the need to deal effectively with the problems of the cities. It will help set up local coalition committees in every city to work on local problems.

It will serve as a clearing house of ideas and experience, and eventually, the national headquarters will provide technical assistance to local committees needing help.

Legislator Tells Of Astonishment In North Dakota

Bismarck, N.D. (AP)—State Rep. Wayne Sanstead, who is working on a doctor's degree at the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks, says a classmate was surprised to learn that he served in the North Dakota legislature.

"This guy in one of my classes came up to me and asked, 'Your name Sanstead?' I told him yes and then he said, 'Are you any relation to that radical young legislator from Minot?,'" said Sanstead.

"When I told him I was that legislator, he just gulped," added Sanstead, 31.

He is a teacher at Minot High School and is on leave of absence this year to work on the advanced degree.

Liberian To Visit

Washington (UPI) — The White House announced that President William V. S. Tubman of Liberia will be in Washington March 27-28 as President Johnson's guest.

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: Temperatures for the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, are forecast to average 5 to 10 degrees below normal. Normal highs are 33 to 42 and normal lows are 13 to 18. Warmer temperatures are expected Thursday or Friday, colder Saturday or Sunday and warmer again Monday. Precipitation is forecast to average one-tenth to one-fourth inch, occurring as mostly snow intermittently through the period.

KANSAS: For the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, temperatures are forecast to average 5 to 10 degrees below normal. Normal highs are 42 to 47 and normal lows are 17 in the northwest to 27 in the southeast. Warmer temperatures are expected Thursday or Friday, colder Saturday or Sunday and warmer again Monday. Precipitation is forecast to average one-tenth to one-fourth inch, occurring as rain or snow intermittently through the period.

Summary of Conditions

A ridge of high pressure is presently located from the north central portion of North Dakota southeastward across eastern Nebraska and into southeast Kansas. This ridge will gradually move eastward and weaken as a complex low pressure area over Nevada and Utah becomes more organized into a deeper center over central Utah by Wednesday morning with this low moving to the southwest corner of the Nebraska panhandle by Thursday morning.

With the ridge dominating the weather over the state and with some overrunning and upslope conditions over the extreme west portion of Nebraska, skies will be cloudy and snow is expected over that section Wednesday, spreading into eastern Nebraska Thursday. Temperatures will be somewhat warmer in the western section Wednesday and over the state Thursday except for the northwestern portion.

EVENTS IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Sighs of relief may well be heard today in many directions as a reaction to City Council approval of business zoning in Gateway at about 62nd and O for Sears, Roebuck and Co. The general feeling of late has been that Sears would get the zoning and now the climax is past.

It will not be the end of Lincoln or of downtown nor will it be the end of the rainbow for Sears or Gateway. This development will take place and adjustments for it will be made in all those sectors of the community affected by it.

But we have substantially altered the future course of events and, at least, stepped up the timetable of tomorrow's developments. The City Council, we firmly believe, made a mistake but there is no longer much point in arguing that.

★

Basically, Sears got what it wanted because it is big and influential, had a lot of other influence with it and had just enough practicality to its case to provide the rationalization needed by the council to take the action it did.

And this is precisely how the next problem of this kind will come along. Who it will be, no one knows, but the council is unrealistic, in our view, to think that it has now done all it is going to do, even at Gateway.

For one thing, there is a good question as to what the courts might do if further zoning in Gateway would be taken to them. The one thing zoning cannot be is arbitrary and there is reason to suggest that this is the category in which the Sears change falls.

None of the reasons given for approving the Sears change adds up to good zoning, but rather, to a practical solution to a problem. One way or another, Sears was going to move and the pressure of that was greater than the strength of the zoning laws.

But there are other big retail operators and we wonder what will happen when they come into the picture with support from some of the leading citizens, a capable legal representative and promises of big payrolls and big spending.

★

And when lesser lights seek what they want, perhaps in the courts, what will be their fate? Recently denied was a proposed change at the northwest corner of 70th and O, a part of the so-called "iron triangle" on which Sears will be located.

How valid that denial is seems a debatable question at this point. How can residential zoning for the remainder of the land in that area be maintained, surrounded as it is with business operations, industry, arterial streets and a railroad track.

And as Gateway grows, the arterials mentioned will become inadequate, as well as feeder streets into the area. The city will be called upon to provide the street capacity to handle this increased traffic burden.

Pressures are now all the greater for the opening of Stevens Creek area to residential development, a further compounding of problems in the area of public services.

★

The effect of the Sears change upon downtown Lincoln cannot be foretold. It depends entirely upon downtown.

But the Sears change is not apt to produce the confidence in the future of that downtown area that is needed to transform it into the modern merchandising, cultural and entertainment complex that it ought to be. The trend is away from downtown and it will take vision and courage to reverse or stem it.

This is a threat to the public service investment the city has in this area and, of course, to all citizens who, collectively, constitute that city. To save this and save itself, downtown needs, not just a face-lifting, but a revolution.

It is hoped that Lincoln does not just sit back and let nature take its course, but rather, that it makes an ambitious effort to meet tomorrow's eventualities with strong leadership today.

'Take Me Along'

Day For Hearts

If you don't like Valentine's Day, you probably have become a little too crusty for your own good. As are many days in the year, Valentine's Day is a delight to children. They love the sending of cards or their distribution in the classroom and the party atmosphere that often prevails on this day.

And it is a day on which they will usually express to someone they love just exactly that thought. The expression will not be as complicated but it will be meant and that is why it is appreciated. All of us could get more out of every day of the year if we followed this example, if we had real conviction in our awareness of others.

But too often, we are aware of others only in a competitive sense, only in trying to see how we can get the better of them. If adults don't get out of the day what they should, it is because they perhaps have become a little too hardened to the cause of the whole human race and a little too anxious about their own personal state of affairs.

When a day such as this is established on a national scale for special observance, people ought to take advantage of it. They can be inconsiderate any time they want but they seldom find the stimulation to be otherwise. And if too far gone, there is no stimulation that can reach them. As has often been said, it isn't enough that you love, respect or admire someone; you have to show them. Valentine's Day is especially for that purpose.

Sailing With The GOP

When President Johnson delivered his State of the Union message, he noted, "When a great ship cuts through the sea, the waters are always stirred and troubled."

A few nights later the Republican Party delivered its "state of the Union" reply. Congressman Gerald Ford seized on the President's language for a long, corny nautical metaphor. Parts of it are herewith presented:

"Apparently the President has been standing on the stern . . . The Ship of State is wallowing in a storm-tossed sea, drifting toward the rocks of domestic disaster, beaten by the waves of worldwide fiscal crisis that threaten shipwreck . . . We need a captain who will seize the helm —call up full power—break out new charts —hold our course steadfast and bring us through the storm . . . We need a captain with courage to clear the deck—jettison the deadweight—a captain who learned his seamanship beyond the Potomac and the Pedernales . . ."

And so on, including, inevitably, "It is no time to signal SOS or abandon ship."

Well, we think Ford should be made to walk the plank for his choice of terms. He should be deep-sixed, as he himself suggested when he urged the President to jettison the deadweight.

Sailing full-steam aboard a right-wing (should we say starboard-wing?) garbage scow, Ford and his GOP shipmates did their best to torpedo "the captain."

Instead, the GOP needs to bear a hand, learn to occasionally say "aye, aye" or else pipe down. They should help put the ship on even keel, acknowledge that it can't lie dead in the water. In other words, get off the poopdeck.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Reactions To Travel Tax

WASHINGTON — Cumbersome, regressive, awkward, unenforceable — these are the more polite denunciations of President Johnson's proposed tax on travel. Whether Congress will adopt the levy in the form put forward by the Treasury is questionable.

In Western Europe this is not an academic question. For a half-dozen countries the tourist dollar supplies the margin of essential foreign exchange. What is more, if American travel outside the hemisphere is substantially cut back, the recession that has slowed economic growth in Europe will in all probability be accentuated.

Economists are fearful that it will bring reprisals, hastening a trend already evident toward the kind of tariff walls and a struggle for national self-sufficiency that spelled disaster in the early '30s. In some instances —France is one — the United States has a favorable trade balance offset in part by the spending of the American tourist.

Italy in 1966 had a favorable tourist balance of $1.199 billion. This represents the total spent by foreign tourists over and above the amount of spending by Italian travelers abroad. For Austria the figure was $420,000,000; for Greece, $102,000,000; for Portugal, $178,000,000. The figures come from the report on tourism by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. In each country the tourist supplies the difference between a favorable trade picture and the ability to import necessities and belt-tightening checking the flow of imports.

☆ ☆ ☆

A report based on Department of Commerce figures shows the American tourist making a relatively small contribution to these favorable balances. For Italy, for example, Commerce puts American spending in 1966 at $153,000,000. The Italians put it at nearly twice that — $285,000,000.

Many European countries are putting a determined effort into increasing tourism from the United States. They have invested in advertising and various forms of promotion to attract not only Americans but West Germans and other inveterate travelers. The American travel ban — if it is effective — will slow if not halt this spending stream.

Greece has developed an impressive tourist boom with thousands of new hotel rooms available on the principal Greek islands. A decline in revenue from tourism would coincide with the return of many of the half-million Greeks working in Western Europe, notably West Germany, as a result of the recession there. The tourist trade began to hurt from the colonels' coup of nearly a year ago with Americans hesitating as a result of the initial harsh measures proposed by the dictatorship.

Spain with a marked recession would be hard hit by a slowdown in travel, since 42% of foreign exchange earnings come from tourism. A fantastic real estate and tourist boom on the Costa Brava and on Majoroa brings thousands of visitors and more or less permanent residents to Spain. It has meant thousands of jobs and, therefore, the aging Franco's problems in holding down the political lid have been eased.

Secetary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler had hardly finished reading his lengthy statement on travel taxes to the House Ways and Means Committee before members of Congress were raising doubts about countries that should be exempted. What about Ireland? Thousands of Irish-Americans go back to the old sod each year. Ireland's favorable travel balance was $84,000,000 in 1966. And what of Israel? American Jews with a deep loyalty to what ardent Zionists consider the Jewish homeland make the pilgrimmage year after year.

In 1966, according to Commerce Department figures, a trip to Europe cost American travelers on the average $1,070. The average stay in Europe was 37 days. Since then prices have risen sharply. Fowler gave the example of a traveler abroad for 30 days spending $700 apart from the cost of air or stamship fare. He would be taxed $110, and if his round-trip fare was an additional $400, the transportation tax would be $20 for a total bill from Uncle Sam of $130. How much this would deter the average traveler must be a guess.

The impact on those countries that rely on tourism will be not only in the travel tax. The Treasury package calls for reducing the present duty exemption of $100 to $10 and cutting the current $10 duty-free gift mailed back home to $1. This means that Aunt Minnie and the schoolteacher from Wichita will think twice before buying knicknacks at the foot of the Spanish steps in Rome.

The threat as the last session of Congress ended was a wave of import quotas on major competitive imports. A gathering momentum for stay-at-home protectionism is hardly the way to solve the world's problems.

Spring Coming

Lincoln, Neb.

University students and the administration are battling again about how closely the students should be watched, The current dispute involving whether dormitory rooms should all be open during "open houses" (which are apparently periods when students of the opposite sex may visit rooms).

But the argument may not last too long. It's probably only a matter of weeks before warmer weather will lead the students out to the woods, where their actions will more likely be determined by the way they were brought up than by the watchful eyes of university officials.

Parking Problem

Lincoln, Neb.

I wonder how many people feel this way about the downtown parking situation?

When we first moved here two years ago, I did most of my shopping downtown. Soon I found I could no longer tolerate the parking inconveniences, so I shopped downtown less and less.

After an experience Friday, February 9, I will avoid downtown like the plague.

I drove around and around (this time at 9:00 a.m.) and finally found a two-hour parking stall. I deposited a dime and went to my hair appointment. I came back one and a half hours later and added some money to it because my husband and I had an appointment to have our picture made for our 25th anniversary. When I came back, I still had five minutes left, but I had a parking ticket anyway.

It seems there is a law you can use the stall for only one time period, then you must move it. Of course, I probably could have moved it by driving around the block and entering the same stall (providing someone hadn't moved in) and all would have been legal.

Obviously the meter maids must justify their jobs, but I'll not use downtown stores again, no matter how great the bargain.

Special Training

Hastings, Neb.

Several thousand voters in an 18-county area voted against the establishment of the Central Nebraska Technical School, to be located on the grounds of the former naval ammunition depot at Hastings. They voted this way because they didn't know what would be the cost of operating the school or how the funds for the school would be secured.

Now, according to news reports, the directors of the CNTS have decided the courses at the school will have to be trimmed because state and federal funds will not be available for support of the school.

In view of this, how can the CNTS be considered higher education? The possibilities are, aside from diesel training, that the other courses will not be any better than many special courses taught in many Nebraska high schools.

Nebraskans are not opposed to higher education if educators can prove it is better than a high school education, where students take special training.

Officer Welter

Lincoln, Neb.

We would like to offer special commendation to a well known and well liked police officer of the city of Lincoln.

The late Officer George Welter, who was killed in a motorcycle accident while in the line of duty, was one of the finest police officers we have had the pleasure of knowing.

Officer Welter was always fair in dealing with traffic violations and was always willing to offer his assistance to everyone. Officer Welter was a friendly and highly respected policeman, whom you could talk to and joke with on or off duty. George was always ready to answer any question you might have about traffic regulations and always gave you a friendly and courteous answer to your questions.

George Welter was an outstanding officer who gave his life trying to help someone else.

A Time For Amour And Its Intricacies

NEW YORK — Love-ly thoughts for a Valentine's Day:

"More lovers fall out of love in the month of November than at any other time of year. The month of March is the next most difficult month for lovers." — Cyril Greenleaf, British lovelorn columnist, after analyzing his mail.

"A Frenchwoman, when double-crossed, will kill her rival. The Italian woman would rather kill her deceitful lover. The Englishwoman simply breaks off relations. But they will console themselves with another man."—Charles Boyer.

"Cold is the memory of love, colder than all other memories. Remember amour —and it is death you see, not love. Your heart kneels at many graves, and where you loved most wildly, the silence is deepest."—The late Ben Hecht.

Women have decidedly greater capacity for love, and for happiness-through-love, than men. They also, however, have a greater capacity for suffering. When frustrated in love, women tend to sink physically and psychologically, bearing deeper and more serious wounds, than men do. — A Stanford University finding.

Do smart women get married? Well: Only 36 per cent of the U.S.'s eminent women educators are wed; 38 per cent of our female doctors, and 64 per cent of our famous actresses marry. A relatively low 72 per cent of all girl college graduates make it to the altar. — Statistics furnished by publishers of "Who's Who in America."

"Marriage is the major way a woman may conform. That is its appeal for born or made conformists. And that explains its total lack of lure for individualists."—Phyllis Rosenteur, author of "The Single Women."

"Of all the murders each year in London, not all are serious. Some are just husbands killing their wives."—A Scotland Yard commander.

"Americans are so very fond of their kids. They're inclined to follow the philosophy that boys are born good, and will continue to be good if they're just loved constantly. Therefore, they're afraid to discipline them, because if they do, they might lose one little goodnight kiss — one small moment of love. That fear of losing affection leaves a boy alone to guide his own discipline. And left alone, he is inclined to go wrong." — Catholic Father Peter Lappin.

"The greatest gift a man can give his son is to remain in love with the boy's mother." — Sam Levenson.

New Draft Law Hits Graduate Students; Universities Need Them In Teacher Role

WASHINGTON—It is widely assumed that the relations between the government in Washington and the students in the universities are about as bad as they could be, but this is not necessarily so. They can get much worse, and under the new military draft regulations, they could produce a political and educational crisis.

Consider the position of men completing their four-year undergraduate course this June. Normally, those planning to go on to graduate work would now be applying for admission to the graduate schools. In the past, all graduate students in good academic standing were exempt from the draft, and both they and the graduate school administrators could plan accordingly.

But this is no longer so. The new draft law continues undergraduate deferments from military duty but abolishes draft exemptions for graduate students except those in certain fields of study, which were to be chosen by the National Security Council. The law also stipulates that the oldest candidates for the draft — that is those nearest to 26 — shall be taken first, and since the National Security Council has not yet said whether mathematicians and engineers are to be exempt or poets and divinity students called up, nobody knows where he stands.

There are several reasons for the present confusion. The main one is that Congress, in trying to keep graduate schools from being a haven for draft-dodgers, wrote a law that is not satisfactory to the Pentagon, let alone the graduate schools or the graduate students.

Under the "oldest first" stipulation of the law, the prospect, according to statistics prepared by the Scientific Manpower Commission, is that between one-half and two-thirds of all men inducted by Selective Service into the Armed Forces in the year beginning next July will be college graduates or those who have been in graduate school for one year.

In the first place, the graduate classes next year would be cut from a minimum of 15 per cent — the White House figure — to a maximum of 40 or even 50 per cent — the Council of Graduate Schools figure — and the impact of this on the undergraduate faculties of many universities would be severe.

For example, most of the large universities rely on their graduate students for assistant teaching and laboratory jobs. This is not likely to be much of a problem at Harvard, Yale, Princeton and the other heavily endowed universities. But the University of Maryland at College Park has more than 1,000 such graduate teaching assistants and Michigan State at East Lansing has more than 2,000.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is why Nathan Pusey, the president of Harvard, was in Washington this week pointing out that the new law would be stopping the flow of teachers at a time when the growing undergraduate student bodies need more teachers every year.

Pusey and most of the other college presidents are not asking that the graduate students be exempt from the draft, but merely that the "oldest-first" principle be replaced by some kind of lottery system so that the graduate students would take their chances with the 19-year-olds and the others.

The administration favors this, too. It may ease the problem by allowing students who have completed one year of graduate study to continue until they have reached the first available degree, but it would like to see the law changed to avoid what President Pusey called "a devastating cut-off" of graduate students.

This, however, is opposed by Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., and Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., the chairman of the two Armed Services Committees. The Congress in general seems to be in a mood to leave the law as it is to "correct" and even to punish graduate students for the special privileges they have enjoyed in the past.

The consequences of this, however, are not likely to be pleasant especially if it is enforced in a spiteful mood.

State To Be Furnished New Grand Commander

State Aeronautics Director Howard Vest said Tuesday it has officially been confirmed that a new 1968 Aero Grand Commander is being furnished as replacement for the state's month-old executive plane that crashed Dec. 2.

The Royal Globe Insurance Company of New York has agreed to furnish "at no cost to the state" a Grand Commander, identical to the demolished one but a year newer model, he said.

The state plane, insured for $216,000, crashed near North Platte following an airport inspection and hunting trip by State Aeronautics Commission members. Vest, pilot and only person aboard, was injured.

Royal Globe has offered a new Grand Commander or a used Beechcraft Air Queen as replacement, and the commission last month accepted the offer of a Grand Commander.

Delivery of the new plane is not expected until June, when it will come off the production line of the Aero Commander Company's assembly plant at Bethany, Okla.

Meanwhile, Vest said, the Kansas City Flying Services of Kansas City, Mo., area distributor for Aero Commander, will loan the state an older Aero Commander 500 U until the new plane is delivered.

The distributor has not yet advised when the "loaner" will be made available to the Department of Aeronautics.

McDonald's Removal Sought By 2 Trustees Of Foundation

A suit asking the removal of James M. McDonald Jr., as trustee and president of the J. M. McDonald Foundation, Inc., was on file Tuesday in Federal District Court in Lincoln.

The action was brought by Reed L. McJunkin and Eleanor F. McJunkin of New York, who along with McDonald and McDonald's wife comprise trustees of the Nebraska nonprofit foundation.

In the complaint, the McJunkins allege that McDonald has continued to claim presidency of the foundation despite his failure to be re-elected at a Dec. 5, 1966 annual meeting of the trustees.

The plaintiffs complain also that McDonald has used the position for personal benefit through a stock transaction which gave him voting control of the capital stock of the J. M. McDonald Co., and sale of shares of his McDonald stock to the foundation at a per-share price higher than its reasonable value.

An injunction to prevent McDonald from acting as president or trustee was asked.

Doctor Files For Election As NU Regent

A Grand Island doctor Tuesday filed wth the secretary of state as a candidate for the University of Nebraska Board of Regents from District Five.

He is Dr. Robert R. Koefoot, who seeks to unseat Robert Raun of Norman, appointed to the board in 1966 by former Gov. Frank B. Morrison.

Dr. Allen P. Burkhardt of Norfolk, a member of the State Education Board, filed as a candidate for delegate at large to the Republican National Convention.

Burkhardt said he is uncommitted as to his preference for the GOP nomination.

On the Democratic side, Thomas P. Kelley, Omaha attorney, filed as an at large delegate candidate to the national convention backing the renomination of President Johnson.

Kelley has long been active in Democratic circles in the state and has announced he will run for the Democratic national committeeman post to be vacated by Marvin Werve of Omaha.

Group Seeking Kurtz's Removal To See Tiemann

A dispute over whether John Kurtz should be dismissed or retained as superintendent of Ft. Robinson State Park near Crawford may come to a head in Lincoln this week.

Northwest Nebraska rancher's seeking Kurtz's removal have made an appointment to see Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann Thursday afternoon.

On Friday, the State Game Commission, which has jurisdiction over the park, holds a regular meeting and is expected to give the matter some attention.

Ranchers and others opposing the current moves to oust Kurtz also are expected to submit evidence of their support.

Both sides in the controversy have been circulating petitions.

REA Rate Hike Given Approval Of Railway Board

The State Railway Commission has granted by a 3-2 vote the Railway Express Agency permission to increase its rates.

The commission authorized a 30-cent hike for parcels of 100 pounds or less and a 3%, but not less than 25 cents, increase on parcels totaling over 100 pounds.

Commissioner James Munelly of Omaha, dissenting along with Chairman Fred Peterson of Columbus, said the tariff hike will net the company $2,800 more this year than under the old rate but still will leave it with an operating deficit.

Munnelly said the New York City-based company has been granted two raises previously and "I didn't feel there was a need for another one at this time."

UAW Sets Date To Finish Talks

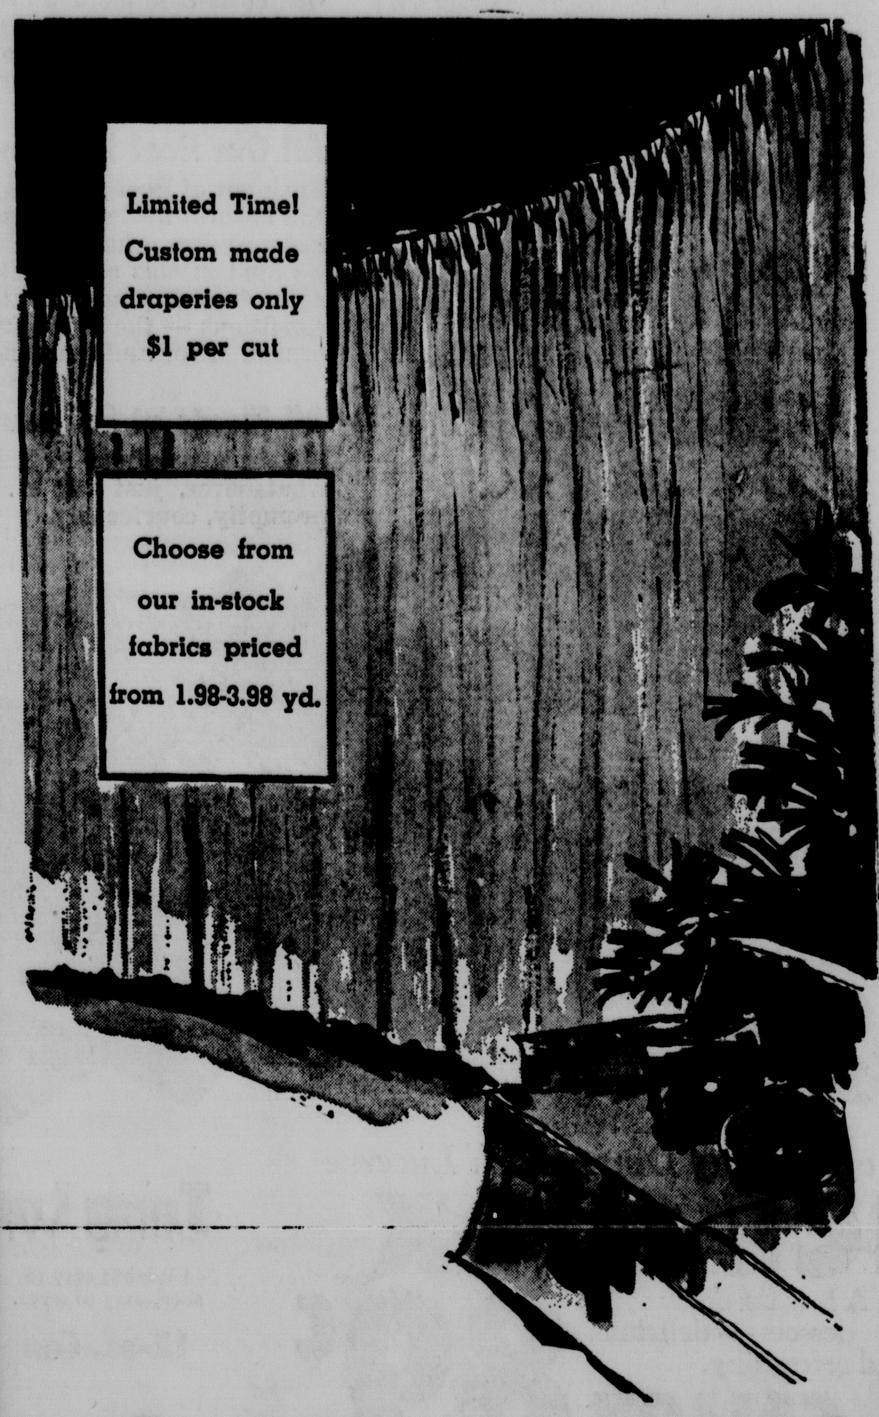

Detroit (AP) — The United Auto Workers Tuesday set a target date of Feb. 29 for completion of national contract negotiations with American Motors Corp.

The union said it hoped to settle "general economic matters and local working agreements" with the nation's fourth largest automaker by the target date without calling a strike or terminating the current extension of the old contract.

Britain's Trade Gap Narrows In January

New York Times Service

London—Britain's trade position is improving. The trade gap created by more imports than exports narrowed in January to a deficit of 31 million pounds ($74.4 million), the Board of Trade said Tuesday.

Devaluation is beginning to show results, officials said, but the full effect of high import prices and lower or more profitable export prices might take another six months to become apparent.

Even so, the January trade picture was the best since the 28 million pound ($67.2 million) deficit last August and represented a vast improvement over the record November gap of 156-million pounds ($374.4 million) and the December gap of 70 million pounds ($168 million).

"We are on our way," said Sir Leslie O'Brien, governor of the Bank of England. He was in a buoyant mood as he chatted with newsmen befor leaving for Washington for talks with the World Bank and International Monetary Fund.

"People at home are more depressed than people overseas about our problems," Sir Leslie said. "The situation is not that bad. After all, if you look around the country, who can you say is suffering?"

Foreign exchange dealers found the trade figures satisfactory, and the pound was firm, although unchanged on light volume at $2.4106.

When you are missing four cards of a suit, they are likely to be divided 3-1 50% of the time; 2-2, 40%; 4-0, 10%. It is important to remember that the 3-1 break occurs more often than the 2-2 break because this knowledge is sometimes extremely valuable.

You may ask what these figures have to do with the present hand, but familiarity with them can guide declarer to the best method of play.

West leads a spade and the defenders cash four spade tricks, dummy discarding a heart on the last spade and declarer a club. West then shifts to a low club.

If declarer plays thoughtlessly, he wins with the king and runs dummy's diamonds, but, when he is finished, he must lose a heart trick and go down one. His ace of clubs gets shut out because he cannot enter his hand to cash it.

It is true that declarer would have made the contract had he found the diamonds divided 2-2. In that case, after cashing the A-K, the nine of diamonds would have provided South with an entry to his hand to score the ace of clubs.

South's crucial decision comes at trick five, when West returns a club. His proper play is to overtake dummy's king with the ace and take a heart finesse. If he does this, he makes the contract.

This play has a better chance of succeeding because the heart finesse wins 50% of the time, while the 2-2 diamond break occurs only 40% of the time. Overtaking the club and relying on a heart finesse is the percentage play. There is no guarantee that this play will succeed, but it offers the better chance.

Of course, South may go down an extra trick in choosing the percentage play, but this is not much of a premium to pay, considering that a game is at stake.

Betrothal Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Kraus make announcement this morning of the engagement of their daughter, Sheila, to Marine Sgt. John J. Bilbo, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bilbo, Jr.

The wedding will be an event of July 18.

Miss Kraus will be graduated this spring from the College View Academy.

Sgt. Bilbo is stationed at Buford, S.C.

Fun News In Suburbia

Blast that ol' groundhog. Winter is here to stay for several more weeks, and the only thing suburban residents can do—besides bundling themselves up —is to extend a warm welcome to new residents around town.

This morning the newcomers all hail from the midwest, and all are settling down in the Wedgewood community. For instance, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gibson are former Omaha residents now making their home at a 204 Wedgewood Dr. address. Included in the new family are the Gibson children, Sharon, now of Sioux Falls, S.D.; Gayle, a student at East High School, and Brooks, who is seven-years-old.

Arriving in the city just a week ago, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson haven't had time for their favorite pastimes, theater and travel, but they are anticipating Lincoln activities. Mrs. Gibson also enjoys interior decorating.

Antique clocks rate special favor at the home of new Wedgewood residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strutz. Settling down at a 1001 Wedgewood Dr. address, Mr. and Mrs. Strutz are former residents of Norfolk and are hoping to find fresh ground for their antique hunting here in Lincoln. Mr. Strutz is the family's clock collector, and while Mrs. Strutz enjoys collecting, she also dabbles in refinishing furniture. Although residing in Lincoln only since the first of February, Mr. and Mrs. Strutz are finding the city very sports-minded.

Finally, we'll tell you about Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buttram and their children, Leslie and Scott, who arrived in town a week ago and who are residing at 8301 Sandalwood Dr. Formerly of Davenport, Iowa, the Buttrams are first-time Lincoln residents. Knitting is the leisure time activity for the lady of the house, but at the moment, Mrs. Buttram is in need of a helping hand with her handiwork. Perhaps a knitter in the Wedgewood area would extend a welcome and some advice to the newcomer.

A member of the talcum powder set to mention this morning is the newest Eastborough resident and addition to the Darrell Wheaton family — Jon Patrick Wheaton. Born on Monday, Feb. 5, at Bryan Hospital, young Jon is now at home getting acquainted with his two brothers, Doug and David, and his grandmother, Mrs. Gordon Atherton of Charles City, Iowa, who is visiting at the Wheaton home this week. Jon's grandparents also include Mr. Atherton and Mrs. Howard Nerheim of Minneapolis, Minn.

Stop Winter Dry Skin

This simple beauty hint will soon bring life and youthful radiance to a winter-dry skin. Wring out a face cloth in warm water and press it gently on and off the face until it begins to cool. This will help to encourage better circulation, bringing a healthy blood flow to the surface to give a lovely glow to the skin. Now, to hold the good which this stimulating treatment imparts, smooth on a beautifying film of oil of Olay.

. . . Margaret Merril.

YW Classes

New craft classes to begin next week have been scheduled by the Lincoln YWCA. Starting Tuesday will be a class in millinery, to be held at 9:30 o'clock continuing for eight weeks.

A six-session class in macrame (knot craft) also will begin Tuesday and is planned for 1 o'clock.

A knitting class scheduled for ten weeks, will begin at 9:30 o'clock, Tuesday morning, Feb. 27.

Exhibit

The public is invited to view the exhibit of 78 paintings completed by students in the Lincoln Public Schools adult education classes in oil painting, which opened Monday at the Hotel Lincoln.

The exhibit is displayed on the hotel's mezzanine, to continue through March 10, and features the paintings of approximately 40 students.

CUPID FINDS ROMANCE ON THE CAMPUS—

This is Dan Cupid's day. If you don't believe it visit any campus and any town in the U.S.A., and you'll discover that romance is in the air, here, there and everywhere.

The Pi Beta Phi house on the University of Nebraska campus is no exception. In recent days it has had its share of the festivities that accompany engagements.

And this is the morning that Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Windle of Falls City have chosen to announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, to James J. Schatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Schatz, also of Falls City.

Miss Windle is a senior in speech therapy at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Her fiance, a former student at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, now is attending Pershing College.

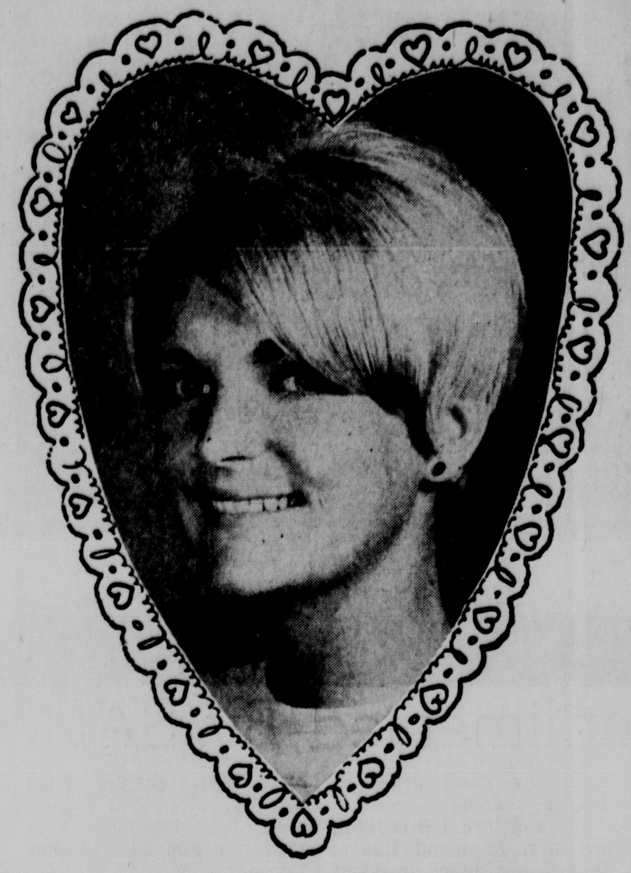

Monsieur Cupid found a target or two on the Nebraska Wesleyan campus, also. That means that the Wesleyan Campus, and areas in the vicinity of Lincoln will have more than casual interest in an engagement announcement.

It is this morning that Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Anderson of Waverly reveal the betrothal of their daughter, Jody, to John Westland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Westland, of Prairie Home.

The wedding will be an event of August.

Miss Anderson is a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and where she is the head cheerleader. Her fiance also is a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan, and is a member of "W" Club.

We wouldn't be at all surprised if June wedding plans creep into the conversation at the Kappa Alpha Theta house rather frequently these days, and all because of one of the sorority's attractive blondes.

It is this morning that Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Graf of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Okoboji, Iowa, make announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Susan Kathleen, to John Thomas Coe, son of Dr. and Mrs. John D. Coe of Omaha.

The wedding will take place in June.

Miss Graf is a senior in Teachers College at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Coe is in the College of Business Administration at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Tex., and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

There has been excitement at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house in recent days due to the fact that one of the KKG seniors was the target for one of D. Cupid's best bows.

The romantic spotlight is turned on Miss Patricia Lee Phillips whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Phillips are this morning making announcement of their daughter's engagement to Ross E. Iverson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Iverson of Springfield, S. D.

The wedding will take place in July.

Miss Phillips is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and of Masquers. Mr. Iverson is a senior in the College of Architecture at the University of Nebraska, and he is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Another bit of Cupid's handiwork on the University campus is announced this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Isley of Firth who reveal the betrothal of their daughter, Diane, to David Kats, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kats, also of Firth.

The wedding will take place in August.

Both Miss Isley and her fiance are juniors at the University of Nebraska, where Miss Isley is a member of Phi Beta Lambda, Alpha Lambda Delta and Pi Lambda Theta honoraries, and where Mr. Kats is a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa honorary.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Erle B. Swain of Prairie Village, Kan., make announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl Rees, to Jacob Martin Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Lee of Lincoln.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, June 15.

Miss Swain is a senior in elementary education at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Lee is a former student at the University of Nebraska and now is associated with the data processing department of the Norden Laboratories.

News of D. Cupid's third target at the Pi Beta Phi house comes this morning from Sioux Falls, S.D.

It is this morning that Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Nerison of Sioux Falls make announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Donald Cutshall, son of Dr. and Mrs. V. H. Cutshall, also of Sioux Falls, S.D.

An early August wedding is planned.

Miss Nerison is majoring in elementary education at the University of Nebraska where, as already has been mentioned, she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Mr. Cutshall also is attending the University of Nebraska and his fraternity is Sigma Chi.

Lincoln will share interest with the Nebraska campus in the announcement made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Focht of the engagement of their daughter, JoAnn, to Thomas McGovern III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGovern Jr.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, June 15.

Miss Focht is a junior at the University of Nebraska.

Mr. McGovern was graduated last June from Creighton University in Omaha, and now is attending graduate school at St. Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he is working towards his Master's degree in hospital administration.

An announcement of interest to both town and campus circles is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Adam Rudolph who reveal the betrothal of their daughter, Nancy Ellen, to Robert Bruce Danley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob E. Danley.

Miss Rudolph is a junior at the University of Nebraska where she is majoring in mathematics. Mr. Danley also is a junior at the University of Nebraska,

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. John F. O'Neill of the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia, to Michael J. Bohoty, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bohoty.

The marriage will be solemnized on Sunday, June 2.

Mr. Bohoty is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska where he is majoring in elementary education.

Announcement is made this morning by Mrs. Ellis H. Rosecrans of the engagement of her daughter, Joyce, to Alan Hilt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hilt of Waverly.

Miss Rosecrans is a former student at the University of Nebraska and now is a member of the office staff of the Nebraska Department of Insurance.

Mr. Hilt attended the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, and now is farming near Waverly.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. John Shou of Sidney, make announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Sheri, to Glenn Roe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Roe of Omaha.

Miss Shou is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Mr. Roe is a senior in the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture. His fraternity is Alpha Gamma Rho.

AND ALL AROUND TOWN

Another of the Valentine's Day betrothals is announced this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Al Spomer, Jr., who reveal the betrothal of their daughter, Mary Alice, to Robert E. Cunningham, son of Mrs. Henry Perkinton, and the late Howard E. Cunningham.

The wedding will take place on Friday, June 7, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Fairhill United Presbyterian Church.

Another Valentine's day announcement is made this morning, and it is Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Barzydlo who are revealing the betrothal of their daughter, Constance Marie, to Robert Lee Rolenc, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Rolenc of Ulysses.

The wedding will take place in September.

On this Valentine's Day Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. DuPont make annoucement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sharon Ann, to Victor I. West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert West.

Th wedding will take place on Saturday, April 27.

ABBY: it's frightening

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a teenage girl with the same kind of problem every other teenage girl has. BOYS! First, let me explain that I am not "boy crazy." I'm just tired of going out with my girl friends.

In our social setup, the boys reserve the right to ask the girls to go out with them, marry them, etc. This is stupid. All the boys I know are shy and have no initiative. It is very frustrating!

Could you do me a favor and tell the boys of the world to open up their eyes and notice that there are girls around, and to please pay some attention to them, to call them up and show some interest?

And, Abby, if you know of a planet where it is acceptable for a girl to ask a boy for a date, please let me know. I am packed and ready.

A PROTESTER

DEAR PROTESTER: I agree. The system is all wrong. Not only do the girls outnumber the boys, but they mature earlier and are ready, willing and eager to commingle while the boys stand around with their hands in their pockets, blushing it up.

No wonder the women are becoming the more aggressive breed. And even more frightening is the undeniable increase of men who don't care whether they lead or follow.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARIE IN AMARILLO: Anyone can "get used to" a wart on the end of his nose if he lives with it long enough, but that doesn't mean he'll learn to LOVE it.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

The island of Mallorca is off the Costa Brava of Spain. Though it belongs to Spain, it has almost been taken over by Swedes and Danes and Norwegians.

The Scandinavians come here at all seasons of the year. They are encouraged by cheap air fares and endless sun on Mediterranean waters. And even though Spain is cold and rainy now — (it can get down in the 40s here at night) —it's warmer than way up north.

Weather this noon: 66 degrees. And that's better than shoveling snow in Copenhagen.

☆ ☆ ☆

Mallorca is known as the Paradise of the Mediterranean — the Golden Isle, the Isle of Peace and Pearls, the Island of Light.

These gorgeous titles didn't fall on the land by chance. They came from the talented pens of travel writers. We do not use ink but refill them with liquid sunshine.

"In this paradise, you can live for $1 a day," we wrote.

☆ ☆ ☆

They said — (and I said it myself) — that you could lie on white sand beaches. Eat lobster daily for a few pesetas. Swim in warm water as blue as a Chinaman's pants.

And all this was true. Once upon a time.

The print brought tourists. A number of them stayed. They swam in the warm water, ate lobster and all for a buck a day.

Until one day a tourist got a great idea.

He said, "If I got another tourist to live here and charged him $2 a day, I could live here for nothing."

Immediately he opened a hotel and raised the rates.

☆ ☆ ☆

This was a great lesson in economics to the native Mallorcans. They were fed up with swimming and eating lobster. As for living on $1 a day, they really wanted to get several dollars a day and a shot at the night clubs in Madrid. (Paradise is always somewhere else.)

The native Mallorcans therefore opened shops. They imported iron-and-gold souvenir letter openers from Toledo and lace mantillas from Seville.

The tourists came and snapped them up. Because you have to buy something to take home to mother.

☆ ☆ ☆

Paradise has a way of getting like a Macy's elevator during the white sales. Especially when everybody gets the idea two can live as cheap as one and tries to make $2 instead of living on $1.

Even at $2 it was a bargain. But the prices have a way of getting out of hand. The original tourist finds himself paying $2 to live. He raises the rates at his hotel to $4.

It's now costing $10 to $16 a day in the Class A hotels.

But it's still a bargain paradise. You can find guest houses where room and meals go for $3 and $4 a day. Cheaper now during the chilly season.

☆ ☆ ☆

In the warm summer, the town of Palma is packed. The Scandinavian planes come and go like street cars. In a day, they will land 7,000 passengers.

The airport is the second (or third or fourth) busiest in the world. (I had the figures given to me three ways.)

They charge a penny to sit downtown in the shady rambla. And it's worth every cent of it.

☆ ☆ ☆

One thing that keeps prices down is Franco's stern ceiling on prices and wages.

It's a big help to Americans. Now that the U.S. $1 buys 70 pesetas. It used to buy 60. The change came when Britain devalued the pound. Many British come down here, winter and summer.

Not many Americans. They are summer birds.

Report Due On Kearney Institution

By United Press International

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann's Advisory Committee on Institutions will meet with the governor Wednesday to discuss conditions at the State Boys Training School at Kearney.

Tiemann's office said the committee's report and conclusions on two days of public hearings at the school last month will be released following the closed session.

The committee is headed by Jack Molsbee of McCook. Other members are Mrs. Betty Chapman of Grand Island, Mrs. Kara Lee Eickelberry of Lincoln, John E. Humpal of Omaha and Everett Yost of Milford.

They conducted hearings at Kearney Jan. 18-19 after a controversy developed over discipline practices at the school, which has had five superintendents in the past 20 months.

At the hearings, former Supts. E. Kent Hayes and Kevin Pesek took issue with the administrative policies laid down by Maurice H. Sigler, deputy state institutions director for corrections. They claimed they were given little freedom in running the school the way they thought best.

Also critical of the Kearney operation were the Rev. John Scott, who serves Catholic inmates at the school, and the Rev. Ronald Hennies, who serves boys of the Episcopal faith.

Sigler has said it will be his practice to set the broad policy for the training school and the superintendent will handle day to day operations.

Former Mayor Of Kansas City To Speak Here

H. Roe Bartle, former mayor of Kansas City, will be the main speaker at a meeting of the Nebraska Human Resources Research Foundation (NHRRF) Saturday evening in the University of Nebraska Center.

Bartle will speak at a banquet following a workshop where alumni members of NHRRF will discuss plans for marking the foundation's 20th anniversary next fall. Fifty alumni of the foundation are expected to attend the workshop.

Robert Wekesser of Lincoln, president of the foundation's board of trustees, will preside at the banquet which begins at 6:30 p.m.

Bartle, a native of Virginia, served eight terms as mayor of Kansas City. While serving as president of Missouri Valley College of Marshall, Mo., he established the American Humanics Foundation, a philanthropic foundation investing in desirable education for youth planning careers in professional youth leadership.

Five Wesleyan Alumni Honored

Five Nebraska Wesleyan University alumni have been named Outstanding Young Men of America for 1968.

They are:

—Dr. Paul N. Fredstrom, dean of students at Kansas State Teachers College at Pittsburg, a former Lincoln resident, and 1955 graduate.

—Mack W. Hunt, senior research chemist for Continental Oil Company, Ponca City, Okla., a native of Lincoln, and 1955 graduate.

—Dr. James E. Lightbody, director of adult education for the Lincoln Public Schools, native of Broken Bow, and 1954 graduate.

—James W. Monroe, chief, Division of Nebraska Resources for the State of Nebraska in Lincoln, native of Fairfax, S.D., and 1960 graduate.

—Charles F. Noren, Lincoln Municipal Judge, native of Superior, Neb. and 1958 graduate.

County Wants Feasible Dump Rules For Small Towns

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday recommended that the county urge at a public hearing at the Statehouse Thursday that proposed regulations governing licensing of refuse disposal areas include a set which would be feasible for compliance by small towns and villages.

The recommendation followed discussion on a request made to the board last week by Waverly seeking county aid in purchasing and maintaining land for a sanitary land-fill to serve the northeast section of the country.

Waverly contended that many people from Lincoln and other areas as well as other counties utilize its present dump which is located 1¼ miles north of town.

Lancaster County Board Chairman William Grossman had indicated that if the City of Lincoln's dump remained open later than 4:30 p.m. perhaps it would better serve Lincolnites who may be using the Waverly dump after hours.

In going over proposed regulations with officials from the City-County Health Department, the board noted that the regulations are such that it would be practically impossible to comply for licensing which is now required under a law passed by the 1967 Legislature.

According to estimates presented the board by County Engineer Hugh Dillon, to maintain someone full-time at each dump site in the county would cost at least $25,000 annually per site.

He said if one man could serve all sites with one loader it would be less expensive costing in the neighborhood of $10,000 per site each year.

He said this would be in addition to the cost of maintaining a low-boy truck to haul the loader from site to site.

Dillon also told the board that so much must be filled in each day and that trenches have to be dug, then it would also be necessary to have a dragline "which I hadn't figured in my estimates."

Commissioners stated that if something were to be done for the northeast section of the county then the county would also need to provide sanitary land-fills for all areas of the county.

It has previously been recommended that four such sanitary land-fills would adequately serve county residents outside the City of Lincoln.

County OKs Receiving Bids On Unit For Water Rescues

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday voted to receive bids on a recovery unit recommended by the Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense and Lincoln City Fire Department.

Representatives of the two bodies recommended that the county purchase a rescue boat to be used for emergency water rescue at Lancaster County lakes.

Under an agreement between the two departments, the county would purchase the emergency unit and the Lincoln Fire Department would furnish personnel who would take special training and be able to respond anywhere in the county.

Fire Chief Dallas Johnson suggested that some type of communication be considered for the recreation areas since lack of communication makes it impossible for a recovery unit to save lives.

In other business, the board approved $7,226 in real estate tax refunds and $309 in penalty refunds on personal taxes.

The board also approved the hiring of Dale Dahlheimer as a deputy sheriff at a salary of $465 per month.

County Officials Given Look At Voting Machine

Lancaster County commissioners and representatives from the Lincoln-Lancaster County election commissioner's office took a look Tuesday at the Shoup Voting Machine.

The machine, which has been purchased by five Nebraska counties, costs approximately $1,823 per machine.

According to Shoup representatives, Lancaster County would need about 270 of the machines to adequately serve the county.

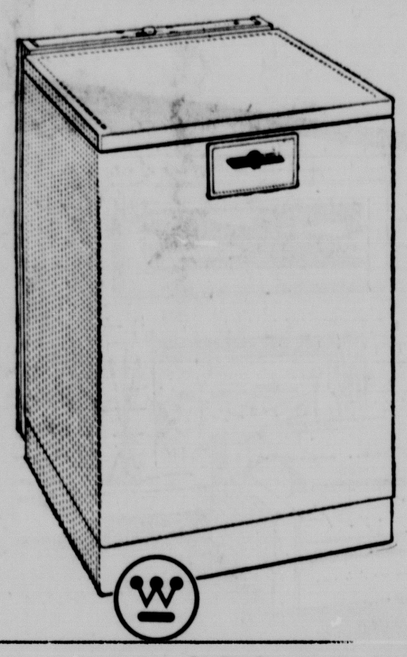

Commissioners indicated they might like to watch the performance of the machine which will be used in the other counties in the spring primary.

B52 Crash Brings Red Complaint

© New York Times Service

Geneva, Switzerland — The Soviet Union registered a complaint with the disarmament conference here Tuesday against the crash of an American nuclear-armed B52 bomber off Greenland last month.

Following up a Soviet protest to the U.S. last Saturday, Alexei Roshchin, the Soviet representative, told the conference that overseas flights of U.S. nuclear-armed bombers were contrary to the principles of international law.

He said the crash of the U.S. bomber was "a flagrant violation" of a 1958 convention barring radioactive pollution of the seas. Roshchin said also the flights violated the partial test ban treaty of 1963.

"Who can guarantee," Roshchin asked, "that a next crash involving a United States aircraft armed with nuclear bombs will not occur over a densely populated region?"

No Explosion

Samuel Depalma, assistant director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, replied that the crash had not produced a nuclear explosion.

He accused Roshchin of "gross exaggeration designed to inspire fear among those who do not have full knowledge of the facts or the technical knowledge necessary to evaluate the facts."

Poland, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia—all the Communist participants in the conference except Romania—joined in condemning flights of nuclear-armed American aircraft outside the United States.

One Western delegate said the Communist countries were reviving the cold war, but other delegates felt that it was merely a continuation of the long-standing Soviet campaign to keep American bombers at home.

Prasch Tells Club U.S. Overlooking Need For Change

The nation is "overly occupied with hardware and technology, overlooking the necessity for constant change in our institutions," Lincoln School Supt. John Prasch told the Rotary Club here Tuesday.

However, the "real greatness of American history," he declared, "lies in the inventiveness of our social institutions."

The answer to "our pressing problems" can be found in new institutions or modifications of old ones, he said.

"We need to try different vogues, but we also need to backtrack occasionally."

The superintendent emphasized the problem of "keeping our institutions relevant to society as it actually exists rather than as we think it exists."

Several Firms Hoping To Design New ETV Home

Six Nebraska architectural firms will make presentations to the Nebraska Educational Television Commission Thursday in hopes of landing the assignment to design a new telecommunications building.

The proposed structure would house the various Lincoln-based ETV activities along with the new State Department of Telecommunications.

The firms making presentations will be Dana Larson Roubal and Associates, Omaha; Leo A. Daly Co., Omaha; Unthank and Unthank, Lincoln, Davis and Wilson, Lincoln; Henningson, Durham and Richardson, Omaha and Clark & Enersen Olsson Burroughs & Thomsen, Lincoln.

Commission Secretary Jack McBride said the presentations are expected to take most of the day.

President Reportedly Picks Pace

New York Times Service

Washington — Frank Pace Jr., former secretary of the Army and former director of the Budget Bureau, has reportedly been selected by President Johnson to head the new Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

Usually reliable sources said Tuesday night that Pace, now a business executive in New York, had been chosen as chairman of the 15-man board of the nonprofit organization. They said that his appointment, along with the names of several other board members, would be announced shortly.

Pace is president of the International Executive Service Corps, a private, nonprofit organization designed to provide companies in developing countries with managerial assistance. The organization is sometimes called the "Businessman's Peace Corps."

The 55-year-old lawyer assumed that position in 1964 after serving as chairman and president of General Dynamics Corp.

The Corporation for Public Broadcasting was set up by legislation last November to provide financial assistance for noncommercial educational television and radio broadcasting.

The bill authorized $9 million in fiscal 1968 to get the corporation started, but Johnson has asked for only $4 million in his new budget.

Ceresco Man Charged In Welter Death

A Ceresco man was charged Tuesday with motor vehicle homicide in connection with the last Friday night death of a Lincoln Police motorcycle officer.

William Otto, 52, requested a preliminary hearing in Lancaster County Court which was set for Feb. 28. Judge Ralph Slocum set bond at $1,000.

Otto, accompanied by his attorney, Merril Reller, was specifically charged with causing, without malice, the death of George Welter, while being in the unlawful operation of a motor vehicle.

Mr. Welter died of injuries suffered when the motorcycle he was riding was in collision with a car driven by Otto on 27th and W Streets.

Fire Department Adds 6 New Men, Boosts Andrews

Six new firemen joined the Lincoln Fire Department Tuesday and one department veteran joined the fire prevention bureau with the rank of fire inspector, according to Chief Dallas Johnson.

The new appointments bring the number of the department personnel of 226, one short of its authorized strength.

Promoted to fire inspector was Dennis Andrews, 28, of 1601 Stockwell. He joined the department in 1961.

The new firefighters who began a six-month probationary period Tuesday include Wayne Swanson, 25, of 891 So. 40th; Keith Marquardt, 24, of 1170 Nelson; Douglas Anderson, 28, of 371 So. 45th; Donald Goers, 25, of 6900 Lynn; Ronald Stuhr, 23, of Waco; and Gary Knoble, 21, of 2945 No. 45th.

Firefighters are paid a starting salary of $428.13 a month.

The department had been short of personnel because of recent resignations and retirements.

44 Cars Derail

Fowler, Kan. (AP) — Forty-four freight cars, at least one of them loaded with bombs, were derailed at the edge of this southwestern Kansas community. Nobody was injured, and a fire which broke out in the wreckage was extinguished.

Trustee Appointed For Beatrice Hotel

By Associated Press

Robert C. Brower, retired judge of the Nebraska Supreme Court, has been appointed temporary trustee of the Paddock Hotel in Beatrice pending a reorganization under Federal Bankruptcy Laws.

U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt of Lincoln signed the order approving the petition for reorganization and designated Brower as trustee to operate the hotel pending further proceedings.

A federal court hearing on retention of Brower as trustee was set for March 25.

Petition Filed

The petition for corporate reorganization under Chapter 10 of Federal Bankruptcy Laws was filed by Lyle Furst, president of Paddock Hotel, Inc.

Involved is a five-story, 100-room hotel and related facilities at Beatrice.

Furst's petition said the market value of the hotel is estimated at $240,000. Other assets, including furnishings and equipment, cash on hand, accounts receivable and inventories boost the asset total by $65,274.

Liabilities Listed

Liabilities include a $171,500 first mortgage in favor of William W. Cook and Homer Hobbs, along with various installment notes and other debts. The debt to Cook and Hobbs is in default, and a foreclosure suit has been instituted, the petition said.

Petitioner Furst said that with some modification of the hotel building and a deferral of foreclosure suits, he believes the property will be able to pay all of its debts within two or three years.

Judge Van Pelt found that the hotel's indebtedness exceeded $250,000.

Brower's appointment as trustee, authorized to spend and receive money for day to day operations of the hotel, was made contingent on posting of a $10,000 bond.

Brower was directed to prepare by March 25 a list of all creditors and amounts owed, along with a list of debtor stockholders and their holdings.

Elrod Will Speak At CLU Meeting

State Sen. Don Elrod of Grand Island will highlight the third meeting of the Lincoln Central Labor Union's annual public affairs institute Thursday.

Also speaking at the institute will be Emmett Dennis, executive director of the Nebraska Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the New Labor Temple, 4625 Y.

Sports Editor, The Star

Where Were Pheasants?

It's the readers' turn, starting with a gripe from Florida about the lack of pheasants in the Lincoln area the past season.

"Nebraska is not living up to its boasts," claims Larry Dutton of Jacksonville, Fla. "They are drawing hunters to the state with their ads boasting about all the pheasants and with their Nebraskaland magazine, but what they're advertising isn't true.

"I had fair luck a year ago in your state and I came back this year because of the boasting your Game Commission was doing, but I was out three days without seeing a bird.

"It cost me $21 for a license for two weeks and when I called the Game Commission to find out what my $21 was being used for, they told me it was used to conduct surveys, and they weren't very cordial to me.

"I'm from Florida where tourism is a big business, but if we conducted our tourism promotion the way Nebraska does, we wouldn't do very well."

COMMENT—Agreeing with Dutton, it's no shame to have a bad pheasant year, but it is a shame to boast to people about the pheasants, then not come through on the boast.

Elba Produced Another Star

The story in The Lincoln Star about Elba, population 180, producing two pro football players for the New York Jets in Lee Jacobson and Randy Rassmussen reminded an old-time sports fan of another top athlete, Grover Cleveland Alexander, who had his "beginning" as a farm boy in Elba.

"I remember Alexander wearing overalls and high boots and chewing tobacco at 17 years of age," the old-timer recalls. "He was equally addicted to liquor.

"It is interesting for me to remember that the Elba population was about half Polish and half Danish. Each group had its saloon on opposite sides of main street. Every Saturday night, there was a fight in the middle of the street.

"There were three Alexander brothers, Irish, of course. When the fight got interesting, the Irish boys moved in and sent the Poles and the Danes back to their respective saloons.

"Alexander was a glum, non-cooperative, big, gangling fellow. The school board dismissed him from school because he would not refrain from tobacco in school hours.'

COMMENT—Alexander, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, won 373 major league games while losing 208. The baseball record books carry his hometown as St. Paul, Neb. We assume Elba is no longer as wild as it once was.

By Boat To Olympics

Some readers, who worked with Newt Copple's National AAU Wrestling Championships last April at Pershing Auditorium, will remember Eddie Collins, the wrestler from New York City, who came to the Capital City without enough money to buy food or lodging, slept wherever he could find a soft spot on the ground and helped another wrestler win the fastest pin trophy by getting pinned in 17 seconds.

"I'm in the Yucatan making a fortune teaching English," he writes, "and will soon go to Japan. I'm teaching English here to make enough money to buy a boat made out of mahogany to sail to Japan to train for the Olympics which naturally I'll win.

"Then I'll pick up the boat and sail it back to the United States and Canada and Chicago on the good will friendship tour between the three countries."

COMMENT—Collins is not crazy, it only sounds that way, but is sailing his boat the wrong way for the Olympics which are to be held in Mexico City, not Japan.

Note From Hal Bowers

Lincoln's Hal Bowers, one of the Capital City's all-time great guys, sends a note from McAllen, Tex., offering, "Three real nice days, but golf scores no good."

Brett Robertson of Barneston wants response from town team basketball coaches, who would be interested in participating in a town team tournament at Barneston on March 22-23-24. Robertson or Sam Smith can be contacted at the Barneston High School.

Marc Moore, secretary for the Beatrice YMCA Junior Rifle Club, wants to hear from other rifle clubs in the state, who would be interested in competition with his team.

MISFORTUNE STUNS SKIERS

American Girls Suffer Disqualifications, Fall

. . . IN OLYMPIC ALPINE EVENT

WINS WOMEN'S SLALOM . . . Marielle Goitschel of France is shown in action en route to the gold medal in the women's Olympic slalom.

Grenoble, France (AP) — For one fleeting moment Tuesday, a youthful band of American girls stood on top of the ski world. But disaster again overtook them and dealt the United States another heartbreaking blow in the Winter Olympics. The U.S. girls—Judy Nagel, 16; Wendy Allen, 23; Rosie Fortna, 21, and Kiki Cutter, 18—stunned onlookers by grabbing four of the top six places in the first run of the slalom as they tried to soften the misfortune that has struck American skiers since the Games began.

But France's Marielle Goitschel came along and snatched the gold medal as the Americans were shut out when three of them were disqualified for missing gates on the first run and Miss Nagel fell on the second.

Miss Goitschel, giving France its third Alpine victory in the Games, had a combined time of 85.86 seconds, .19 ahead of runnerup Nancy Greene of Canada. Another French girl, Annie Famose, won the bronze in 87.19.

Americans also got off to a poor start in the men's figure skating as expected winner Emmerich Danzer of Austria took a narrow lead over countryman Wolfgang Schwarz after two of the five compulsory figures.

Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., was fourth, Gary Visconti of Detroit sixth and John Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., 13th.

Toini Gustafsson of Sweden captured her second gold medal, winning the women's five kilometer cross-country ski race ahead of two Russians. No Americans were entered.

The two East German leaders in the women's luge competition were disqualified for illegally heating their sled runners after the final fourth heat was postponed in the men's and women's singles. Again no American girls were entered.

Training runs began on the four-man bobsled event after four days of weather delays.

When the times went up for the first run, through the 56 gates it looked like an incredible day for the U.S. Alpine team, seeking its first medal after a series of injuries and waxing mistakes.

Miss Allen of San Pedro, Calif., had a spectacular 39.25, followed by Miss Nagel's 40.19. Miss Goitschel was third at 40.27, Miss Fortna of Warren, Vt., next at 41.31, then Miss Greene at 41.45 and Miss Cutter of Bend, Ore., at 41.46.

Despite the disqualifications, hopes were high as Miss Nagel took the top spot. A school girl added to the team with Miss Cutter shortly before the Games, she caught the imagination of the crowd as she was pitted against veterans Goitschel and Greene, two of the world's best.

Marielle, behind by .08 of a second, started sixth and sped through the 57-gate, 425-meter second run in 45.59, and 5-foot-4, 123-pound Judy followed.

She flashed through the first few gates and then went down, once, then twice, and finished in 59.77, eliminating her.

Miss Greene then tried and turned in the fastest time of the run, 44.70, but she had too much to make up.

"We just never have been able to get a break," said U.S. coach Bob Beattie with tears in his eyes after watching Miss Nagel fall. "Everything has gone against us, but the kids have never quit fighting."

Miss Goitschel and Miss Greene sympathized with him.

"They (the Americans) really didn't have any luck today," said Miss Goitschel, who won the giant slalom in the 1964 Olympics and in the 1966 world championships. "They are very strong, but I think they set too fast a pace."

"I feel sorry for them because they are very good," added world champion Miss Greene, "but they just don't have enough experience."

Despite her victory in the giant slalom in 1964, Miss Goitschel was getting the reputation of not being quite good enough in the slalom after finishing second in that race to her sister, Christine, in the 1964 Olympics and runnerup in the 1962 and 1964 world championships.

"At last I'm a bride, not a bridesmaid," she smiled. "This is the title I wanted to win most in the world. I was getting tired of finishing second."

She still has the giant slalom to come on Friday. Olga Pall of Austria won the downhill earlier, but finished ninth in the slalom.

Danzer and Schwarz, who have finished 1-2 in every world and European figure skating championship since 1966, appeared on their way to duplicating that finish in these Olympics as they are expected to do.

Bob Gibson Inks 1968 Cards' Pact

St. Louis (AP)—Bob Gibson, the St. Louis Cardinals World Series pitching hero, signed his 1968 contract Tuesday, the National League club announced.

Gibson signed in Omaha, Neb., where he met with General Manager Bing Devine, a club spokesman said. Salary figures were not announced.

Gibson had hinted that he felt he was worth as much as any of the top players in baseball.

Gibson was only 13-7 during the regular season due to a broken leg suffered in mid-July against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Questions Asked Of Sports Board

. . . NCAA-AAU TRACK DISPUTE

Washington (AP)—Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Tuesday he is sending to the Sports Arbitration Board questions raised about the panel's report on control of amateur athletics.

Magnuson said all of the organizations concerned have responded to the committee but several of them raised technical questions on the findings Feb. 1 of the board, which was headed by labor mediator Theodore Kheel.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association and its affiliate, the U.S. Track and Field Federation, on the one hand, and the Amateur Athletic Union and its ally, the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association, on the other, have been feuding in recent years over control of amateur athletics.

The arbitration board was set up in an effort to end the feud.

In its report Feb. 1 to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the board established three categories of track meets in this country—with varying sanctions.

It also proposed five-year binding arrangements in an effort to end the dispute.

Under the agreement, the president of each of the organizations was to notify the commerce committee by Feb. 10 "whether he unconditionally accepts the statement of principles and disputes procedure to the extent of his power, and will recommend unconditional acceptance to the appropriate governing bodies."

Magnuson, in a statement released by the committee, said several requested additional clarification of the technical points while others will accept the findings if all the others agreed. He did not specify which organization took which action.

"The parties requesting clarification, however, assure me that they will give me their notice of complete acceptance or rejection within one week after the technical questions raised have been answered," the senator said.

The NCAA said from Kansas City it had asked for clarification. In Los Angeles, the AAU said it asked the committee for more time to study the report.

In its report, the board gave the AAU the sole sanctioning right for all open meets—those involving athletes from other countries and nonstudents.

It gave the USTFF, and therefore the NCAA, the right to run closed meets, without AAU sanction, as long as they are confined to full-time students.

A third category of meets also was established by the board—open domestic competition. The USTFF could sponsor these meets but would need the sanction of the AAU. This sanction would be automatic if the collegiate federation satisfied all the AAU's international requirements.

Magnuson said he discussed the matter with the vice president and several members of his committee, including Sens. Howard H. Cannon, D-Nev., James B. Pearson, R-Kan., and Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., all of whom have been concerned about the situation.

"All have agreed that I should submit the replies to the chairman of the Sports Arbitration Board for interpretation and answer," Magnuson said.

He said he felt the responses by the groups "indicate a clear disposition on the part of the disputants to accept the decision of the board."

"I again state," Magnuson said, "that it is the opinion of this committee that the decision of the board is sound, and in fact, provides the only workable basis for a solution of this dispute.

"Accordingly, in transmitting these replies and the questions raised therein to Mr. Kheel, I have indicated that I am confident that as soon as their questions are answered, affirmative replies will be forthcoming from the parties.

"I know I speak for the entire committee when I express the hope that no further action by this will be required," Magnuson said.

The Washington senator had said earlier that his committee would consider legislation to end the sports dispute if the various organizations did not accept terms of the report.

—DEAL WITH SENATORS—

Chisox Trade Ron Hansen

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago White Sox' brisk rebuilding for 1968 continued Tuesday in a six-player deal with the Washington Senators which shipped veteran sportstop Ron Hansen to the Senators.

Hansen, 29, about to be supplanted by ex-Baltimore Oriole Luis Aparicio, and pitchers Dennis Higgins and Steve Jones went to Washington for infielder Tim Cullen and pitchers Bob Priddy and Buster Narum.

Cullen, 25, Santa Clara University product who batted .236 for the Senators last season, is tabbed for second base to form a new Sox keystone combination with Aparicio.

In the process of earlier acquiring such prime newcomers as outfielders Tommy Davis from the New York Mets and Russ Snyder from the Baltimore Orioles, the White Sox traded off two second basemen, Don Buford and Al Weis, both former Lincoln, Nebr., Chiefs.

In Hansen, a native of Oak, Nebr., the Senators get a veteran shortstop of six seasons with Baltimore and the White Sox. Hansen led the American League in assists and double plays last season and batted 233, three fewer points than Cullen.

Right-hander Higgins, 28, was benched most of last season by a detached retina in his left eye, now reported to be mended. He had a 1-2 record, but was regarded as a strong bull pen performer. Jones, 26, a lefty, pitched a 9-3 record for Indianapolis and 2-2 for the White Sox last season.

Priddy, 28, and Nrum, 27, both right-handers, appear to be merely insurance additions to the Sox mound staff, considered the league's strongest. Priddy had a 3-7 record and 3.44 ERA for the Senators in 1967. Narum was 9-8 with Hawaii and 1-0 with Washington.

Although the Senators have another front line shortstop in Ed Brinkman, Washington sought Higgins and Jones to replace one of their best relievers, Darold Knowles, called into military service.

Land At Crawford Put Off Limits For Sportsmen

Crawford (AP)—Two Crawford area ranchers report many area ranchers are posting their land against hunting and fishing.

Ivol Buckley and Levi Richardson, ranchers involved in the circulation of petitions asking the removal of John Kurtz as superintendent of Fort Robinson State Park, made the report.

Buckley said about 300 signatures now are on the petitions and that some of the ranchers posting their lands control some of the better fishing areas on the upper end of the White River, west of Fort Robinson.

Richardson said the petitions, together with a list of grievances, will go to Lincoln this week and will be presented to state officials "in an orderly fashion rather than through the news media."

LA Swaps Hunt, Oliver To SF

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers traded second baseman Ron Hunt and utility infielder Nat Oliver to the San Francisco Giants Tuesday for catcher Tom Haller and a minor league player to be announced.

The trade was disclosed by Red Patterson, Dodger vice president.

It was the first major deal between the Giants and Dodgers since 1956 when they traded Jackie Robinson from Brooklyn to New York for Dick Littlefield.

Lambert Named Region Chief For Gals' Track

Randall Lambert of Ainsworth has been named Region 7 Chairman of the National AAU Women's Track and Field Committee by Dr. Nell C. Jackson of the University of Illinois, who is the Chairman of the National AAU Women's Track and Field Committee.

Columbus Top-Seeded In Class A District

Columbus (AP)—Pairings for the Class A District Basketball Tournament opening here Feb. 29, have been announced.

Fremont will meet South Sioux City in the 7 p.m. game and Columbus, top-seeded, will meet Norfolk in the second game at 8:30 p.m.

No. 1 Elgin Last Team Still Undefeated In 'D'

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

It's the final week of regular season play, as Class D district tournaments open across the state next Monday.

The big news of the last week was Falls City Sacred Heart's big 63-51 win over rated Class C Tecumseh.

Coach Don Armstrong's quintet has been rated throughout most of the season, despite a rather poor won-loss record. The Irish have played an almost exclusively Class C schedule, and the majority of those against rated or at least highly-regarded C teams. They moved to third.

Though there are 167 Class D schools, as tourney time nears only Elgin is undefeated.

The Eagles remain in first place this week. Of the seven rating weeks to date, Elgin has been top-rated four times. Earlier in the season they held down the second ranking on three occasions.

The other big news in Class D this week was the collapse of highly regarded Hayes Center. The Cardinals showed up for the Frenchman Valley Conference tournament, which was their first mistake. They lost to Stratton and Grant and fell from the top ten.

Stratton also lost one in the same tourney to Grant, a rated Class C team, but beat Hayes Center for the consolation crown, and thus slipped only a couple of notches.

Cody, ranked fourth a week ago and winning its two games of the week, benefited the most by the misfortune of others, and moved up to second.

Little change takes place in the lower half of the top ten. All had been rated before with the exception of Adams, which joins for the first time.

The Hornets dropped their first four games of the year and have lost three to the No. 2 Class C Sterling Jets. Two of the Sterling losses were by a total of just eight points, however, and coach Larry Coorts club has come on strong in recent games.

Adams disposed of district challenger Douglas in its last outing by a convincing 96-66 score.

Nebraska Prep Ratings

By Virgil Parker

Class D

1—Elgin (15-0)	6—Callaway (15-1)
2—Cody (17-1)	7—Wheatland (13-2)
3—Falls City S.H. (10-5)	8—Spalding Academy (13-3)
4—Stratton (14-2)	9—Uehling (14-2)
5—Lynch (16-1)	10—Adams (12-7)

Comment—The biggest change in the ratings this week finds Falls City Sacred Heart jumping to third on the basis of a win over highly ranked Class C Tecumseh. Hayes Center drops from the top ten after two losses in conference play. Adams joins the select circle for the first time.

Scottsbluff Offers Challenge To South

. . . STATE WRESTLING THIS WEEKEND

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Omaha South, which has won the Class A high school wrestling title the past two seasons, can expect another stiff challenge from Scottsbluff this year.

The best prep grapplers square off in the Coliseum on the University of Nebraska campus Friday and Saturday for the state championships.

Action opens with the preliminary round Friday afternoon at 1:30. Friday night acton and three sessions on Saturday complete the festivities.

Saturday night's finals will see 36 champions crowned. Twelve different weight divisions are represented in Classes A, B and C.

The 144 district champions each drew a bye in the first round, while second and third place finishers, who also qualified for the state meet, will tangle in the first session. In all, 432 wrestlers, having survived district eliminations, will be entered.

Scottsbluff, which finished second a year ago, qualified the greaest number, 11, in Class A, while defending champion South will have eight on hand.

Lincoln High, 13th last season, and Lincoln Southeast, 11th in 1967, have the greatest number of local entrants, with nine and eight, respectively.

Class B defending champion Lexington has eight members of the squad in the state meet, while Albion, which won the title in 1966 brings nine to the final meet of the year.

Rushville captured the Class C title last year and again tops the list in that division with eight. Milford and Sewsame number to the Husker campus.

Crawford, second last season, qualified only five this year, while third-place finisher, Harrisburg has seven, along with Bertrand and Bayard.

Eloquent, Piano-Plucking Wrestler Eyeing Olympics Medal

East High sophomore John Lowe displays three qualities you don't normally see in a boy his age . . . he knows how to express himself, he can whip anybody his size in the city and, as a topper, he's an accomplished piano player.

Since the fourth grade at Merle Beattie School, John has known what his goals were in life. One is a wrestling gold medal in the Olympics.

"It has always been my desire to do well in anything I start, to reach all possible heights," he said and included the gold disc in his plans.

With this attitude, the 95-pound Trans-Nebraska and District A-1 champion should succeed. If he does, credit for his development will go to four men, Newt Copple, Harry Thompson, East coach Jack Ramey and his biggest booster, his father, Dick Lowe.

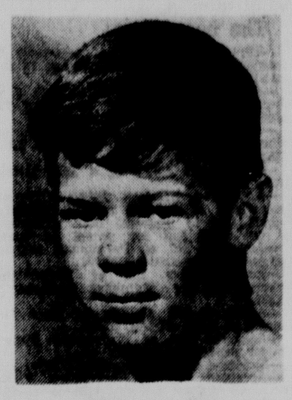

John first started wrestling through the junior program in the Pentzer Park Wrestling Club from which the Nebraska Olympic Club was formed under the direction of Copple and Thompson.

"Each year we started with 40-50 boys, but this tapered off as the training got tougher," John explained. "It was the young boys with older brothers in the program who stuck it out."

John stuck it out and became the top young prospect in Lincoln when he was runnerup at 80 pounds in the 1966 State Jaycee Tournament, then won the title last year.

He came to East under new coach Ramey with all the physical and mental attributes which make a great wrestler and he hasn't let anyone down.

At 18-0, the Spartan grappler hasn't lost a match since he was a ninth grader, a 1-0 decision to Philip Gonzales of Boys Town. Lowe and Lincoln High's Bob Orta are the city's best bets for championships in the state tourney this weekend.

JOHN LOWE

John had high praise for Ramey. "He has had to work slow with the other boys and not worry so much about me. There should be more dedicated coaches like him." Lowe credited East's surprising showing in the district to Ramey's guidance.

Five Spartans head into the state meet Friday and Saturday at the University of Nebraska. "I'll go into state a pound under everyone else in my class and I'll be four under after the first match," John said.

Will he hit his peak against the tough Omaha and out-state competition? "A couple of weeks ago, I thought I had already hit my peak, now our whole team is hitting its peak."

John has a brother, Mike, who was unbeaten most of the year at Northeast. The two, not far apart in weight, work out with each other.

Lowe said East will probably dominate wrestling here in at least two years, but he did not count the Links out. "Lincoln High will pull most of the talent the next couple years."

John didn't want to talk much about his piano-playing ability. "Most of the guys don't know that I play," he said after arriving home from his once-a-week practice session.

—LEADS PANTHERS TO THREE WINS—

Prague Senior Brtek Named Basketball Player Of Week

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

It may look as though there is a letter missing from Roger Brtek's last name, but there is nothing missing from the little Prague senior's basketball play.

Brtek came up with three sizzling performances in a row to earn Player of the Week honors.

Roger, a 5-9 guard for the Panthers, found his club trailing Snyder, 47-42, as the final quarter began last Tuesday. He pumped in 10 of his 22 points in the final stanza to lead his mates to a come-from-behind 59-55 win.

If that wasn't enough excitement for one week, the Panthers played a pair of overtime games on the weekend and Brtek was instrumental in both victories.

The Prague ace meshed the nets for 37 points against Rising City Friday night. Again he came up with 10 in the final period to tie the game, then added the deciding basket in the overtime to pace the Panthers' 71-68 triumph.

Brtek hit 17 of 30 long range shots. He had another 57% shooting night in Saturday's 64-65 extra-quarter win over Mead.

This time is was 13-23 from the field and 28 points overall. But more importantly, Brtek canned all seven Prague overtime points, the last two on a long jump shot with four seconds left to ice the win.

Others who had outstanding games include:

Charlie Moore, Lincoln High—With 30 seconds left Moore tied and then won the Links' crucial intra-city battle with Pius X when he swished both free throws on a one-and-one opportunity.

Rich Stickney, Ravenna — A "quarterbacking" guard who led Ravenna to a Lou-Platte Conference title last week. Rich scored 10 of his 22 points in the third quarter against rated Burwell to break that game open, followed with 24 counters against Gibbon in the championship game.

Dick French, Wahoo — This 6-2 junior grabbed 24 rebounds, scored 23 points and paced Wahoo to a 61-53 victory over Blair. The important win gave the Warriors the Ak-Sar-Ben Conference North Division title.

Mark Alderman, Davenport—A sophomore, Mark has been averaging 20 points a game. He also knows how to keep peace in his family. When he scored 33 points in a game last week he didn't break the school record, he just tied it. He now shares the honor with brother Gordon, who recently graduated.

John Seidel, Sidney — The pivot man for the Class B Maroons, John scored 54 points, gathered in 41 rebounds in two games against Class A teams last weekend.

Record Field Nominated For Fonner Juvenile Race

Grand Island — A record 106 homebred two year olds have been nominated to the 13th running of the $3,000 added Fonner Park Juvenile Stakes to be run here on April 30.

The record number of nominations gives rise to the hope that the purse for the renewal of the stake will reach $7,000. Last year the juvenile stakes attracted only 99 nominations, but the purse reached a record $6,600. The winner's share of $3,960 went to Bold Accent in the highly successful filly's first stakes triumph.

Barton H. Ford of Valley leads the list of owners nominating to the Fonner Park Juvenile stakes by naming five of the two year olds raised at his excellent farm. Two of those nominated, Sun Ticco and Sunny Clown, are by Sun David while Vapor Whirl sired Twisty Maid and Saywon. The other youngster named, Indian Raven, is by Indian Creek out of Raven's Claw.

Kenneth W. Fleischer of Columbus; John Dondlinger, Hebron; and Charlie B. Murnan, Omaha, each have four juveniles eligible for the Grand Island stake.

Paul M. Kemling of Aurora, who won the 1967 edition of the Juvenile Stakes with Bold Accent, has nominated Merry Kem, Jeannie Kem, and Miss Lea Kem in an effort to gain a repeat in the event. Merry Kem is a half sister to Bold Accent. The brown filly is out of the Doge mare, Docile Doge by Royal Rex, who is by Royal Gem II. Bold Accent was by the Kentucky sire Bold Lark.

Ed Board-LEA Procedures Endorsed

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Procedures for handling Board of Education relations with the Lincoln Education Association that could lead to negotiation sessions on staff-initiated requests were generally endorsed by the board here Tuesday.

School board members formally approved all of the procedures recommended by Supt. John Prasch except the provisions on conducting the negotiation session. Action will be taken on those items at the next meeting, it was decided.

The board defeated an amendment proposed by Don Biehn that would have required negotiations to be conducted in open meetings. Only Robert Wekesser and Biehn supported the proposal in the 2-4 vote against.

Action Deferred

Board members then voted 4-2 to defer action on the negotiations section of the procedures with Mrs. Catherine Angle and Dr. John Lux dissenting.

The negotiation session is the third meeting between LEA and board officials outlined in the procedures for handling requests made in writing to the board.

First the two groups will schedule a meeting "to discuss and explore the content of the requests" with oral presentations and counter proposals of the board made. The president of the school board will chair the session.

Second Session

Within 30 days of the original request and following the clarification meeting, the procedures call for a second session to identify areas of disagreement and items to be negoitated, if any. An LEA member will preside at this meeting.

Prasch, who said he would recommend that no board members be a part of the negotiating team, indicated he would probably propose that the personnel director, assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs and the board's attorney be the district's negotiators.

Men in those positions now are Dr. Carroll Sawin, Dr. Robert Den Hartog and Willis Hecht, respectively.

Outside Consultants

The superintendent's recommendations on conducting the negotiation sessions, yet to be approved, included using the superintendent to chair the meetings, allowing use of outside consultants, limiting teams to eight persons each and closing the sessions at the request of either party.

Agreements will be made in writing, in case of an impasse and procedures outlined in the state statute will be followed, according to the approved system.

The LEA has asked again for board action on requests submitted previously concerning sick leave and personal leave policies and procedures for workman's compensation claims.

Veto Power

In other action Tuesday the board authorized its staff to move ahead with plans for a trainable retarded program cooperating with Educational Service Unit 6 with certain stipulations, including veto power over appointment of the director.

Tentative arrangements include using 10 classrooms at Gen Arnold School for the program, which would be administered by the service unit. Of the predicted enrollment of 100 children, 65 are expected to be from Lincoln.

Dr. James Lightbody, director of vocational and adult education, reported to the board that additional revenue had been secured, enabling the school of practical nursing to continue.

Madonna Home, Lincoln General, Bryan Memorial and St. Elizabeth Hospitals agreed to support the program by contributing about 50% of the salaries for clinical instructors, he said. Other monies will be available from state and federal sources, student fees, and the district's in-kind support.

The board also:

—Directed high school principals to consider including ROTC training in the curriculum.
—Set a work session for March 5 to discuss expansion plans and new facilities for Huntington School.
—Asked for a recommendation on nine-weeks grade reporting at its next meeting, Feb. 27.
—Approved sale of a 1951 pickup truck for $2.50.
—Rescinded previous action directing installation of a fence around Hayward School due to proposed land utilization of the area not for school purposes.
—Accepted bid of Paramount Supply for radiation equipment, $3,601.
—Accepted low bid of Paramount Supply Co. for plumbing equipment, $3,331.
—Accepted bid of Lincoln Steel for fencing at three schools, $1,446.
—Accepted bid of Nationwide Paper Co. for paper towls, $5,762.
—Rejected bids on venetian blinds.
—Accepted bid of Hockenberg Fixture and Supply Co. for kitchen equipment for Park and Elliott renovations, $20,400.
—Rented six school sites for the 1968 growing season to five persons for a total rent of $1,682.

Longer School Year Needs To Be Considered—Prasch

Supt. John Prasch Tuesday labeled the Lincoln Public Schools' practice of teaching the minimum number of days required by law as "poor" and warned that he may recommend a longer school year in the future.

Prasch made the comment as he proposed a 175-day school year for students in 1968-69 that was approved by the Board of Education in its meeting here.

Nebraska law requires that students be in school a minimum of 175 days each year.

Needed More Time

The superintendent said he might have recommended more days in next year's calendar if there were more time for board consideration of such a proposal. However, the calendar is already late in being adopted, he explained.

But Prasch declared that board members "should look at a longer school year for the future."

The national average is for students to be in school 184 days, he said, noting the increasing pressure of curriculum to teach more content and more courses.

Teachers will have 185 duty days and five paid holidays next year, according to the 1968-69 calendar.

DON LYDIC

Lincolnites Sought As Corpsmen

Six Peace Corps recruiters at the University of Nebraska said Tuesday they are anxious to reach out into the Lincoln community as well as the campus for volunteers.

The recruiters have set up an office in room 135A of the Nebraska Student Union, 14th and S streets, from which to direct their work to students and Lincolnites.

Carol Cull, 29, who was a volunteer in community development programs in Malaysia, said there are no upper age limits or education requirements. Volunteers need only a skill which would make them valuable in Peace Corps service, she said.

Agricultural Skills

People with skills in agriculture are the primary concern of recruiter Don Lydic. He is a native of Farnam and graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1964 with a degree in conservation. He served in Columbia, South America.

Lydic said that there is an increasing need in the Peace Corps for people with agriculture backgrounds. He said anyone interested in agriculture would have little difficulty finding a place in the Peace Corps.

"I don't think there is as big a push here (as in California) to try and get all the agriculture graduates high paying jobs," Lydic said, adding that the Peace Corps provides valuable post-graduation experience.

Latest Program

He is working to promote the Peace Corps' latest program which combines graduate work in agriculture at Davis college in California with Peace Corps service. He said that through the program a graduate can receive a master's degree for about $600.

A film entitled, "Give Me a Riddle," will be shown Feb. 21 in the Union auditorium for students and Lincoln residents interested in the Peace Corps.

A language aptitude test will be given Feb. 22 at 12:30 p.m., 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Feb. 23 at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.; and Feb. 24 at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the Union.

Those interested in taking the half-hour test must bring a completed application which can be obtained in room 135A of the Nebraska Union or at the Lincoln Post Office, Lydic said.

Health Board Defers Action On 'Agreement'

The Lincoln - Lancaster County Board of Health Tuesday night postponed until next month consideration of the revised city-county agreement under which the Health Department operates.

Discussed in its place were the garbage situation in outlying towns, which one member termed "appalling," and the unsanitary housing in Lincoln.

But Dr. G. R. Underwood, director of the Health Department, said that the garbage situation was the problem of villages and county and that the board could only make suggestions.

The Health Department again last month received a number of complaints from citizens concerning unsanitary conditions of homes within city limits, the board was told.

Dr. Underwood said, however, that under Lincoln's housing code the department lacks the authority to follow up on such complaints.

Chadron Boy, 3, Mauled By Dog

Chadron (UPI) — A little boy was listed in good condition at a Chadron hospital Tuesday after being badly mauled by a dog.

Doctors said some 80 stitches were required in the treatment of Jeffrey Sukup, 3, who lives with his parents on the Fort Robinson Beef Research Center grounds. The boy was bitten on the head and neck.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sukup, said they found the boy Sunday noon. The dog — a large shepard-type animal — was still present, but the cause of the attack was not learned.

Authorities have confined the dog to the Fort Robinson veterinary hospital for observation for possible rabies.

Open House Set

A discussion of the history of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints will highlight an open house program at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the church, 640 N. 56th St.

Lincoln YMCA Program Praised

James Jeffrey, director of Fellowship of Christian Athletes, told a crowd of about 1,200 attending the YMCA Membership Banquet Wednesday night, that Lincoln had the "outstanding YMCA program in all of America."

Jeffrey said that during the past, he has had occasion to visit YMCA's in all of the fifty states, and his consideration that Lincoln had the best physical program was founded on what he had observed in the other states.

The majority of Jeffrey's appearance was taken up by his juggling feats and a continuous repertoire of good-natured jokes poked at various members of the audience.

When he settled down and spoke seriously, he emphasized the importance of a YMCA in the community.

Jeffrey, once an all Southwestern Conference fullback for Baylor, told the audience that he received his initiation to organized sports through the YMCA in Corpus Christi, Tex., in 1936.

He joked about his past when he said that his membership was paid by some anonymous person because his family was "so poor, that we couldn't even pay attention."

"But I would have done anything to belong to the YMCA," he said.

"I know that you have problems in getting members," he said, "the minute you try to do good, people act suspicious and try to avoid you because they think that there is a catch in it somewhere."

"However," he urged, "keep trying because in the long run people will understand and try to help."

Monroe Usher Jr., the Big Boss of the citywide membership drive, said the Central YMCA has 478 members, the Southeast branch, 117, the Northeast branch, 571 members, and the Camp Kitaki branch, 71. The total amount of cash raised so far is $29,392, which, he said, was far short of $100,000 goal that had been set.

Auditorium Unit Pledges Strict Drinking Control

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The city auditorium advisory board Tuesday outlined a liquor permit proposal pledging "very strict control" of drinking if a liquor license is issued for Pershing Auditorium.

The liquor policy and the board's request that the city apply for a license will be placed before the City Council next week.

The board and auditorium manager Ivan Hoig noted that "the only reason in requesting a liquor permit is to put Pershing Auditorium in a competing position with other such facilities in attracting private conventions, banquets and meetings.

"It will also serve the purpose of officially placing a tight control on the dispersing of alcoholic beverages in the auditorium."

If a license is issued, the board said, "At no time will liquor be served at any function where minors are present."

Other provision of the advisory board's policy:

—Liquor would be served only when requested in writing by the lessee, who would state the starting and closing hour, estimated attendance, and the approximate age of those in attendance.

—The auditorium manager would have full discretion to determine those events at which beverages would be allowed to be served. "Control will be tight by the auditorium manager."

—Liquor would never be authorized at any public function — any event where tickets are sold or given to the public or the general public is admitted. Liquor would be authorized to be served only to private groups, private parties, conventions and meetings.

"By a diligent and strict enforcement of the policy," the board said, "every precaution would be taken by the management to avoid any possible embarrassment or criticism of the operation of the auditorium."

Advisory board chairman Dick Chapin called the resolution " a good policy — if this is carried out, there should be no problem.

"This will help us get some events we haven't been getting."

In other action, the board noted that the auditorium's claim against the Centennial Health Fair, Inc., for some $3,500 rent is now hung up in the city attorney's office, pending action by that department.

The board has pressed for payment from the organization and several deadlines were set before the issue was forwarded to the city legal department to initiate action.

"If something doesn't happen pretty soon, we should talk to the mayor about the city legal office," Chapin said.

Other business:

—Hoig reported that aluminum outside doors were purchased for Pershing this month at a cost of $5,000.

—The auditorium manager also reported that the Keen Time attendance has suffered the past two weeks, both as a result of a "rumble" two weeks ago, and the NU-Kansas State basketball game last Saturday.

Last week's Keen Time dance did not break even for the first time in memory, Hoig said.

—Chapin said he will press the City Council for a $3,000 appropriation for an accoustical band shell for the auditorium.

— The profit and loss statement shows that the auditorium is running $8,338 in the red for the first five months of fiscal 1968, compared to a deficit of $9,351 for the same period in fiscal 1967.

Lincoln Firm To Manufacture Resistor Tester

Mid-Continent Laboratory, Inc., of Lincoln has announced plans to manufacture and market GARD (Graphic Analyzer of Resistance Defects), a high speed system for testing all types of resistive components.

Officials said that GARD does tests in five seconds which formerly required up to 250 hours.

Mid-Continent procured the manufacturing and marketing rights from Dale Electronics in Columbus.

The system will be manufactured for sale to volume resistor users with screening requirements, resistor manufactors and test laboratories. Mid-Continent will also use GARD in its own custom screening and reliability testing operations.

Supreme Court Denies Rehearing On Income Tax

The State Supreme Court Tuesday overruled a motion for a rehearing by challengers of the state's new income tax law but agreed to stay its mandate until May 13.

The high tribunal in December declared the income tax imposed by the 1967 Legislature to be valid and constitutional.

The challengers—headed by Phillip C. Anderson of Crete —subsequently asked for a rehearing and a stay of the court's final judgment pending appeal the the U.S. Supreme Court.

Herbert Volland Dies At Age 75; Retired Mortician

Milford — Herbert E. Volland of Milford, retired mortician and founder of Volland and Son's Mortuaries at Milford and Dorchester, died Tuesday at the age of 75.

Mr. Volland had been a past president of District 2 of the Nebraska Funeral Directors and Embalmers Association.

You have a family lawyer.

"Say nothing."

Shouldn't you have a family Travel Agent?

"Say—Hawaii?"

Once you get a family Travel Agent, you'll notice something right away:

Traveling becomes easier.

That's because somebody who knows you has told the hotel what kind of room you like best.

And told the airline you prefer an aisle seat.

And told the rental car people you want power steering.

And—when vacation time rolls around—you suddenly get information about all the special trips that are priced your way. All because somebody in the travel business knows you.

How much do you pay for all this service? Probably nothing. The basic costs are paid by the transportation companies and hotels whose services the Travel Agent arranges.

So go ahead. Shop around for a family Travel Agent. See what a difference he makes on your next trip.

He'll arrange everything—the way you want it.

Because he's part of the family.

Stocks Plunge In Heavy Trade

New York (AP)—A bedraggled stock market was beginning to show some signs of a comeback Tuesday when more bad news came: plans to send 10,500 more U.S. troops to Vietnam.

The result was another sharp fall in the market. Selling was heavy near the close, with the ticker tape three minutes late.

The Dow Jones industrial average dropped 8.27 to 831.77.

This put the closely watched indicator at its lowest level since Jan. 16, 1967 when it closed at 833.26.

Turnover was 10.83 million shares compared with 11.85 million Friday when the market skidded in advance of a three-day weekend loaded with dramatic uncertainties about the U.S. involvements in Asia. Stock markets were closed Monday for Lincoln's birthday.

The session also marked the start of the fourth straight week of four-hour sessions, shortened from the regular 5½ so that brokerage houses could catch up with a logjam of paperwork caused by record volume.

Prices were mixed at the start and the earliest reading of the New York Stock Exchange index actually showed a slight gain. Many of the heavily pummeled glamor stocks made sharp early recoveries, some running to 3 points or so.

Although the entire market started to ease irregularly, there remained an undercurrent of strength in the popular issues until the news came about the decision to send more troops.

Of 1,489 issues traded, 1,013 fell and 306 rose. New highs for 1967-68 totaled 9 and new lows 80.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 3.4 to 304.8 with industrials off 4.8, rails off 2.5 and utilities off .8.

It was the sharpest loss in the AP average since last Nov. 20 when the average took an equal loss.

The New York Stock Exchange index fell 48 cents to $49.72.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks declined and five advanced.

Benguet was the most active stock, up 1 at 12 on 377,700 shares.

Of the 30 stocks in the Dow Jones industrial average, 21 fell, 5 rose and 4 were unchanged.

Prices retreated sharply on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 5.04 million shares compared with 5.98 million Friday.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Travel Tax Would Interfere With Freedom Of Choice

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Liberty Hampered

The Johnson administration's proposed punitive taxes on travel outside the Western hemisphere is another indication of how American freedom of choice is adversely influenced by totalitarian trends elsewhere.

It has not been unusual for the Communist police states and the quasi-democratic Socialist governments to restrict freedom of travel.

Where the trend is for government decision-making, instead of voluntary choice in economic affairs, interferences with individual liberty are widened.

Technically, the Treasury proposals of taxes of 30% on expenditures abroad in excess of $15 a day do not forbid travel but embody the indirect approach against which, early in the Republic, Chief Justice Marshall warned when he said, "The power to tax is the power to destroy."

Impairs Value

As government hands down more and more negative commandments, one effect is to impair the value of money. In common usage, inflation is merely a process for raising the cost of living, but restrictions on free choice do more than raise the price. They sap money of its basic quality of being an option on anything within the price limits.

No realist in the closing third part of the twentieth century expects laissez faire, in which everybody can do as he pleases. It is reasonable for government to exercise police power and make it illegal to exchange money for habit forming narcotics, for example. But in the use of police power, the burden is on government to demonstrate that its regulations are in the public interest.

These are not academic issues. To be specific, in Falangistic Franco Spain, the outer shells of private enterprise are continued but the system is altered by the fact that the central government reserves to itself pivotal economic decisions. Without an alert citizenry, we may inch by inch become minions of the state.

Serious Aspect

There is another serious aspect to the trend. Affluent America through unwise and obsolete policies faces financial strain because of two decades of governmental international give-away policies.

The disequilibrium in the balance of our international payments vis-a-vis the rest of the world is unlike that of Great Britain, which suffers from its inability to export as much goods as it imports. In the U.S. we have a favorable trade balance; that is, our exports exceed our imports.

The imbalance stems primarily from colossal federal government spending overseas for military bases, maintenance of fleets, NATO contribution, the military needs in Vietnam and Korea, and foreign aid.

Nit Picking

It is a diversion to do nit picking and try to make a showing against tourism and foreign business investment.

If, for example, the tourist balance should be reduced by $350,000,000 a year, as estimated by Secretary of the Treasury Fowler, this would not necessarily mean that we would correct the total current deficit in international balance by that amount, or 10% of the total.

On the contrary, economic analysis leads to the expectations of offsets. Those European and other foreign countries, which habitually buy more goods in the United States than they sell here, make up the difference in the excess of U.S. tourist expenditures in their country.

Accordingly, if the international purchasing power of those countries is decreased as a result of our limiting tourism, we can assume that they will adjust to the new situation by cutting down imports from the U.S. If this happens, the country will have gone through an elaborate adventure in restricting citizen freedom with no important constructive results.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped self-addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

NFO Beef Action Expected To Run Into Next Month

The Nebraska president of the National Farmers Organization (NFO), William Sellhorst of Dodge, said Tuesday the NFO holding action on beef, which began Monday, will continue into March.

He predicted the action will have a "far greater effect on Nebraska" than did a 43-day holding action in 1964.

"This is due to a 50% increase in membership and a general worsening of the economic condition of the farmer compared to four years ago," he said.

City Churches Invited To Aid Low Cost Housing

By DAN DICKMEYER
Star Straff Writer

The Lincoln Housing Authority, in its efforts to provide Lincoln with adequate low cost housing for the elderly, was searching for direction Tuesday night.

But it got lost momentarily in a squabble about the maximum liquid assets an elderly applicant could hold.

The meeting was called by Housing Authority Chairman Kenneth King to give invited guests — Lincoln clergy and church representatives — a chance to show interest in providing low cost housing.

King said that plans for additional housing for the elderly "were no longer in existence" since the defeat of the minimum housing code, a requirement for obtaining federal housing funds.

Soon after discussion opened, however, King was asked to set down the guidelines for obtaining the housing.

King said that one of the stipulations was that an applicant's liquid assets could not exceed $10,000, but the figure was challenged by Dr. Kenneth Bing, a spokesman for Eastmount Manor, a church sponsored retirement home.

"Why set it at such a high level and make it (low cost housing) available to people who can make their own way," Bing questioned. "It's the person with $3,000 and less (liquid assets) that the church should be concerned with."

King replied that the $10,000 figure was within reason. He said elderly people are often afraid to part with this money to provide their own housing because they woiuld have nothing left in case of emergencies.

Herb Hamilton, authority lease program director, cited a study which showed that 46% of his applicants have assets less than $2,000 and 90% of these have less than $1,200.

Bing questioned Hamilton's source and said, "We would like to serve the market of people who can't pay their own way. We feel we can conclusively say that $3,500 is the maximum level."

King replied that "until we prove that we are loading our places with people of $10,000 assets we won't change it." Bing then left the meeting.

Several clergy at the meeting expressed a desire to form non-profit corporations which would build low income housing and then lease it to the Housing Authority for use in its current lease - rent program.

Rev. Ebb C. Munden of the First Methodist Church suggested the possibility of several churches getting together to finance a housing project. He added that advance assurance was needed so that after a project was built it would be filled.

King cited one difficulty of moving people away from neighborhoods where their church is located. But he added that the Housing Authority "will do anything we can do to make a plan practical and workable."

He said he invited all Lincoln clergy so that when the Housing Authority did design a plan, no church could say it wasn't invited to participate. He said he thought about five churches might be interested.

House Of Bauer's Acquired By The C. J. Patterson Co.

The House of Bauer's Chocolats, Inc. of Lincoln, nationally-known candy manufacturer, Tuesday was acquired for an undisclosed sum by the C. J. Patterson Co., a national food ingredient and chemical specialty firm that also markets wholesale bakery products in a 13-state area.

Robert M. Patterson, president of the Kansas City-based company, said that candy plant would remain in Lincoln and that no changes in personnel were contemplated.

Approximately 50 persons are employed by the House of Bauer's, which was founded by Raymond Bauer and owned by Herbert L. Harrison since 1963.

"The plant facilities," Patterson said," will be expanded and volume increased."

He said that the House of Bauer's would become a new company division headed by Howard A. Elkins, who formerly organized his own sales and distribution firm to handle the products of the Jolly Rancher Co. of Denver.

Founded in 1946, the Patterson company does a gross volume in excess of $27 million annually with its two divisions, Patco Products and Bakery Products.

Priests To Form National Group

Chicago (AP) — Some 300 priests from across the country voted Tuesday to form a national federation of priests to coordinate the work of local priest associations and senates.

Formal establishment of the Catholic priests' federation was delayed until a constitutional convention is held, probably in Chicago about the middle of May. The vote to organize was almost unanimous, 283-1.

Interstate To Go Through Ogallala

Ogallala (UPI) — Ogallala is now the second city in Nebraska to have the Interstate Highway go directly through town.

The Ogallala City Council passed an ordinance annexing more than 235 acres south of Ogallala into the limits of the city. Included in this tract is Interstate 80.

The highway currently is under construction in the area and should be complete by late November.

Gen. Schmidt's Rites Thursday; Holdrege Native

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — A native of Holdrege, Neb., Gen. Harry Schmidt, 81, will be buried Thursday at Ft. Rosecrans National Cemetery.

The four-star general commanded three divisions of U.S. Marines which captured the Pacific. Island of Iwo Jima in 1945, after a two-month battle that cost more than 5,000 lives.

Schmidt, who died Saturday at San Diego Naval Hospital where he had been since Sept. 1, retired in 1948 to end a 39-year Marine career.

ICC Will Probe Proposal To Cut 4 CB&Q Trains

Washington (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission announced it will investigate a Burlington Railroad proposal to discontinue four passenger trains between Omaha and Kansas City.

Affected are Trains 22, 23, 26 and 27. The railroad wanted to discontinue them effective Feb. 23. The ICC decision put this off for up to four months.

Hearings will be held, but no dates were announced.

WILBER OKS POOL ISSUE

Lincoln Star Special

Wilber—By an overwhelming majority, Wilber voters gave approval Tuesday to a $35,000 swimming pool bond issue. The tally was 374 for, compared to only 29 against.

The funds will be used in modernizing the community's present pool. Both the bathhouse and filtering system of the current pool have been condemned.

A drive is also under way here for $20,000 to add to the bond issue funds. Approximately $15,000 of this amount has been raised thus far.

Boy Is 19.6 Pounds

Asuncion, Paraguay (AP) — A 19.6-pound boy was born to a woman in the town of Puerto Embalse, officials reported. The mother, Mercedez Benitez, 42, died of complications from childbirth, but her son was reported in good health.

Tractor Driver Fatally Stricken

Lexington (AP) — An elderly Lexington man died of a heart attack Monday as he was driving a farm tractor on a county road about one-half mile east of Lexington.

State Trooper Martin Gutschenritter identified the victim as Wilfred V. Stuart, 81. The trooper said the death will not be counted as a traffic fatality.

He said the tractor came to a stop in a ditch after making a circle through a field and back across the road.

Patrol Presented Medicine To Aid Poison Victims

The Nebraska Pharmaceuticiation has presented the members of the Nebraska State Patrol with 450 one-ounce bottles of Syrup of Ipecac to help reduce deaths from poisoning.

The medicine causes vomiting and is intended for use when persons have swallowed a substance not intended for consumption.

Eldon R. Kreimer, R. P., the Lincoln director of the associaton, also provided a supply of counterdose charts to be added to the Patrol's first aid kits. The charts specify the antidotes for several common types of poisoning, and were donated by the Lancaster Pharmaceutical Association.

Optimists On Summer Riots In Minority

. . . SAMPLING TAKEN AFTER PRESIDENT VOICES GLOOMY OUTLOOK

New York (AP)—Some civic and civil rights leaders disagree with President Johnson that "we'll have a bad summer" of racial unrest.

But optimists were in a minority in a spot sampling of half a dozen cities which have experienced trouble of one sort or another.

The President assessed prospects for more urban riots in these words Monday night: "I don't think you can avert a bad summer . . . we'll have a bad summer. We'll have several bad summers before we avert the deficiencies of centuries."

Daley Disagrees

Fellow Democrat Richard J. Daley, mayor of Chicago, disagreed.

"I think we will have an improved summer over 1967, when there were no major disturbances," he said, pointing to what he called a positive program of housing and job improvement, recreation and police-community cooperation.

"I would assume that President Johnson's warning is based on his estimate of the temper of the Congress," said Cleveland's Carl Stokes, the first Negro to be elected mayor of a major U.S. city.

"I would join him in warning that every roadblack thrown up in front of an approach for a worthwhile program is an invitation to trouble next summer."

Addonizio Concurs

Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio of Newark concurred in the President's assessment. The mayor just endorsed a report by a state investigating commission which criticized police methods during the Newark riots last summer and which said there had been a "pervasive feeling of corruption" in the city.

"I don't see any more riots . . . we will have guerrilla war," said the Rev. Walter Hoard of Milwaukee, president of the Wisconsin conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

George King, who succeeds Hoard as head of the Milwaukee NAACP chapter, said he is "not contemplating disturbances."

Where Question

"You don't know where it's going to break out next," said a spokesman for the National Urban League in New York.

"Every city in the country is a tinderbox. You've got to mobilize all strength possible, particularly in the business community."

Thomas Atkins, first Negro ever elected to the Boston City Council, said, "Most of the riots have started because there was a flammable situation to begin with. All you need is a spark. And that can be anything.

Witnesses Say Negro Students Shot In The Back

Atlanta, Ga. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. charged Tuesday that eyewitnesses reported that students shot during a violent outbreak on the South Carolina State College campus last week were shot in the back and many were wounded while lying on the ground.

In a telegram to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, King accused South Carolina state troopers and other officers of "immense overreaction" and said the wounding of from 37 to 50 students and three deaths "must not go unpunished."

In Washington, the Justice Department noted it had sent the FBI into Orangeburg, S.C., last week to begin an investigation within a day after the shootings. A spokesman said there would be no comment on King's telegram.

Cooperation Between Omaha, Lincoln Urged

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

Omaha — Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen said Tuesday that both Lincoln and Omaha will need to share in "intimate concern" over urban problems and should participate together in leadership to solve state problems.

The Omaha mayor spoke while Lincoln city government officials met with their Omaha counterparts.

At the invitation of the Omaha City Council and mayor's office, Lincoln council members and Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf renewed efforts with Omaha to seek common goals for the state's two biggest cities.

Sorensen emphasized the necessity for "a working arrangement between the councils of Omaha and Lincoln."

"Our problems are almost identical," Sorensen said, "so it would seem good judgement to have them get together."

He said the two metropolitan areas should achieve a consensus in pressing for state legislative achievement in the areas of street improvements, sewers, air pollution, water pollution and other urban problems.

Foremost in his mind, Sorensen said, is gaining relief for the street needs of urban areas.

The Legislature, during its last session, he said, should have increased the gas tax one-half cent as requested, resulting in an additional return of revenue to meet city street needs.

Sorensen also spoke of a need for both cities to concentrate on area-wide planning.

"Omaha is growing at a fantastic rate — it is as near a boom town as any city in the country," Sorensen said.

He forecast that the Capital City and Omaha will someday be "a vast metropolitan complex."

Stressing the need for a coordinated approach, Sorensen noted that the federal government, administering its variety of aid programs, will be "dealing more with the states and regional or area planning units."

Sorensen said that at the present time, "there are no specific areas of conflict" between Omaha and Lincoln.

"We need cooperation, especially because the University of Omaha is now a part of the University of Nebraska."

And he predicted in 25 years the Omaha campus will be larger than the University in Lincoln, adding, "this (merger) is the greatest thing that has happened to Omaha in a quarter of a century."

To a larger degree, Sorensen said, "Lincoln and Omaha can provide the leadership for the state . . . these two cities should work together with the rest of the state if Nebraska is going to prosper."

Echoing the Omaha mayor, Omaha Council President Fred Jacobberger commented, "We have to quit considering ourselves as Lincolnites and Omahans and consider ourselves as Nebraskans."

In addition to Mayor Schwartzkopf, council members Bill Davidson, Lloyd Hinkley, Ervin Peterson and Carroll Thompson, Finance Director James Mallon, City Atty. Ralph Nelson and City Clerk Harold Springer also represented Lincoln.

GM Plans $1 Billion In Building

Detroit (UPI) — General Motors Corp. will spend about $1 billion this year building new plants and improving old ones, the world's largest manufacturer announced Tuesday.

GM Board Chairman James M. Roche, in a news conference held on the release of the company's annual report, said most of the new spending would be done in the United States.

The annual report confirmed preliminary estimates that GM profits fell by $166 million during 1967, the second straight year of decline from the record level of 1965.

Roche told reporters that only "20 to 25%" of the 1968 capital expenditures will be made outside the U.S.

Roche said the sudden switch of Semon E. "Bunky" Knudsen who left GM as an executive vice president to become president of rival Ford Motor Co., will have no impact on GM's long-range plans.

Honors Bestowed On 3

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — The largest crowd ever to attend an annual Chamber of Commerce banquet here rallied behind new officers Tuesday night and chose three of community leaders for special recognition.

Recipient of the highly regarded Jaycee Distinguished Service award was a 35-year-old service station owner and father of six, Garold Kleveland. Senior Citizen sparkplug L. E. Henderson received the Good Neighbor award, and Mrs. Lucille Griffeth became the first "Outstanding Member" of the Chamber Women's Division.

The presentations were beneath a giant banner proclaiming the year's slogan: "It takes two — the Chamber of Commerce and you." More than 450 members and wives attended.

"Those things we decide to do we will pursue with a great deal of enthusiasm," promised President-elect Leigh Coffin, city postmaster. "With our board and program, nothing is impossible."

Taking over next month from Wilbur Mosiman, Coffin pledged continued efforts toward a local trade school and a north-south interstate. He described routing of the latter as "quite as important to Beatrice as was the coming of the railroad in the 1880's."

Dr. DeLoss Walker, Chicago human relations consultant, who addressed the group, challenged that "it's not what happened yesterday that counts, but tomorrow."

Struggle, he asserted, is "the first law of life."

"If you have vision, nothing can stop your forward march," he stated, "but a good dream unfulfilled only weakens the person who had the dream."

Kleveland, current Sertoma president, was cited for 12 years' activities ranging from Chamber and Jaycee work to Boy Scouts and service on the Salvation Army board. He is a native of Antelope County.

The citation for Henderson, 77, stressed his establishment of the 250-member Beatrice Senior Citizens. A former high school principal and then an insurance representative, he has served on both state and national committees studying problems of the aging.

Mrs. Griffeth's leadership with the Centenary Methodist Church, PTA and Women Chamber Division helped bring the new award. Like the two other honorees, she was given a plaque.

Toastmaster was Dr. Houghton Elias. Also speaking briefly were Bud Pentz and Jack White, outgoing and incoming president of the Beatrice Development Corporation.

Backing Coffin as 1968 officers will be Dick Hovenvick, first vice president; Walt Braun, second vice president; Ken Ruhnke, treasurer; and Sterling Kent, executive vice president. Mrs. Margaret Kassing will head the women's division.

Slim Figures Twins' Cause For Suicide

Turlock, Calif. (AP) — Twin sisters apparently took their own lives because of what their father called an obsession over the fact they did not have beautiful figures.

Janet Ann and Joan Marie Jackson, 20, were found dead in their car in a rural area northwest of Turlock. A hose led from the exhaust into the car.

Their father, Donald Jackson, said the girls had been despondent in the past over their height of 5 foot 1 and their boyish figures. He said their stature had become an obsession with them. Janet he said had attempted suicide two months ago but made a "fantastic recovery."

The girls were graduates of Turlock High School. Their father owns an auto parts store.

Thant Talks To Wilson, Off To Paris

London (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant met with Prime Minister Harold Wilson Tuesday on the war in Vietnam, then canceled plans to return to New York and decided to fly to Paris Wednesday.

Observers in London thought it significant that North Vietnam has a diplomatic mission in Paris. Hanoi has no such mission in London.

There was speculation that Thant might be going to Paris to receive a reply from Hanoi on his most recent peace soundings.

There was no reason given for his change in plans.

Thant saw Foreign Secretary George Brown, before a 90-minute luncheon conference with Wilson.

Wilson then went before the House of Commons and again asserted that despite the Communist offensive in Vietnam "there is a very narrow gap to be bridged now" for peace talks.

"Unfortunately," Wilson added, "the fighting of the last two weeks makes it more difficult for all concerned to cross that bridge."

Silent Film Star, Mae Marsh, Dies

Hermosa Beach, Calif. (AP)—Mae Marsh, who became a star with her role in the 1915 silent film classics "Birth of a Nation," died Tuesday. She was 72.

She died at her home in Hermosa Beach, where she had lived with her husband, Louis Lee Arms, for 47 years.

Petite, blue-eyed and auburn-haired, Miss Marsh was 19 when she was cast in "Birth of a Nation" as Flora, the little sister swept into the tragic Reconstruction after the Civil War. D. W. Griffith had discovered her five years before and used her in his earlier films, but Miss Marsh's popularity--and earnings—rocketed after the sweeping Civil War drama.

WE HAVE TRUCKS
Many set up for IDEAL CAMPERS.
Remember last Spring?
It was hard to find a good truck!
Buy now — save those Spring prices.

'66 Ford 250 ¾ ton long box. Air conditioning, V8 engine. One owner. This week only $1627

'64 Dodge ½ ton with long box, V8 engine, 4-speed transmission, heavy duty suspension. Just jump in and move to that favorite fishing hole in the Spring. Now only $1262

'64 Chevy ½ ton Fleetside, 6 cylinder engine, 4-speed, near new rubber and drives tops. Needs drive shaft balanced, but not a scratch. Just drive it out. This week only $1262

'65 Chevy Panel. When you see this truck you can visualize its many uses. It has the long, long carrying area, V8, 4-speed, and bucket seats. You could haul 15' rugs or 15' pipes and all your tools. Or it would make a perfect camping unit. It's very clean and well kept with good tow bumper. See and drive it. This week only $1282

'61 Jeep This is one in a hundred. 4-wheel drive pickup. Good mud & snow tires. Power to spare with a snow & dirt blade (hydraulic). Easy to take off or put on. One good snow and it would pay for itself. This week only $1052

'60 Chevy Here's one you've been looking for. 2-ton with 6 cylinder, 4-speed with 2-speed rear axle, grain box (13'6") with hoist. In top condition. It was a high priced truck new. Has torsion bar front suspension and heavy duty rear springs. Stop looking — this will handle your needs. This week only $1682

REMEMBER

We're your Saunders County Ford Dealer. No one has undersold us because you deal with the owners direct. Overhead permits us to make the lowest offers. Go get prices elsewhere, then come to us. You'll see, we'll trade.

Famed naturalist-photographer Heinz Sielmann recently spent days shivering in an icy blind perched on a Pribilof Island cliff to make closeups of the bizarre tufted puffin.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D I L B A A X R
to L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another in this example, A is used for the three L's X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the etters under the checked figures gives you.
